SHANGHAI RIOTS CHECKED BY 5000 SOLDIERS FROM VICTORIOUS ARMY

Cantonese General Assures
Three Foreign Consuls
He Will Maintain Order
in City.

AMERICAN MARINES GUARD BRIDGE

Resumed in One Section of City Between Southern and Part of Defeated Shantungese.

Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, March 23.—A night of comparative quiet, after two days of a resumption of firing in the southern part of Shanghai, not far from the border of the international settlement, where a small number of Northern troops was holding out. A number of men were set on fire.

Nevertheless, the general situation around the city was peaceful, and at any previous time the vanguard of the Chinese armies marched into the city, the beginning of the fighting, the beginning of the killing, looting and destruction was only after the arrival of more than 5000 Cantonese regulars in the native city late today that a semblance of quiet was restored.

Provision to Maintain Order.
The victorious Cantonese army is today taking matters in hand. A small body of Shantungese still out in the Chapel district to the west was some firing. The shops were reopening.

General Tsung-hsi, commander of the Cantonese forces, which took Shanghai, told the British, French and Japanese Consul-Generals today that he intended to restore order. The Consul-Generals got in touch with him, after difficulty.

The American Consul-General, E. Gauss, did not participate in the conference, but it is understood he gave his approval. He would have gladly signed a declaration that he had restored order in the Chinese area north of the international settlement.

The customs and postoffice strike put the finish to such little business as was possible under conditions. All international mail is being held up.

Americans Guard Bridge.
Throughout the last two days the Chinese defense troops have been alert, guarding against any attempt to enter the international settlement.

This morning 40 United States troops were hurried to the Marking bridge, on the border between the international settlement and the native district of Chapel. It was feared there might be attempts by Southern sympathizers to blow up the bridge. The detachment was sent at the request of the American Consul-General, Duncan, in command of the forces.

With a mortar and machine gun, the Americans hold a position flanking the bridge, across which Creek, which separates the Anglo-American position from the most turbulent portions of the city. The bridge has been shelled by Chinese territory the last two days. The position is held by the British Coldstream Guards.

Three Marines Arrested.
The American troops suffered one casualty last night when a patroling a customs guard was slightly wounded by a spent bullet. Three American Marines arrested by the Cantonese as attempted to reach the Dollar bridge through the Chinese lines.

The arms and motor truck were released. After a short time, however, when the Cantonese were convinced they were a peaceful mission.

One serious clash has occurred between the Chinese and American troops. This was when the Chinese attempted to rush the American position to get into the international area. Some of the Chinese were fired on by the British defense forces. The British defense forces returned the fire. Italian defense troops in a similar encounter.

It was reported by the British military authorities that the Chinese casualties in these clashes were 50 killed and 100 wounded.

The Chapel district last night was in a state of confusion.

Cantonese General Outlines Aims of Nationalists

SHANGHAI, March 23.—SHANGHAI is to become the "base for a world revolution," says a manifesto issued by Gen. Pai Tsung-hsi, Cantonese commander, to the Chinese people today, but foreigners must not be attacked or insulted or their property destroyed.

"For 80 years," the manifesto reads, "the imperialists, under the protection of unequal treaties, have reduced China to a state of vassalage."

"After the revolution of 1911, the foreign imperialists continually supplied Chinese imperialists with rifles and guns, with which they have waged war for the last 15 years."

"On the one hand the foreign imperialists have checked the development of Chinese education and industries, and on the other have secured for themselves special privileges."

"But the Chinese now have awakened, and Shanghai, the greatest commercial center in the Far East, will become not only a strong base for Chinese nationalism but for a world revolution."

"The people must distinguish, however, between attacking imperialism and foreigners. They must not insult the foreigners and destroy their property."

Gen. Pai urges arbitration in order to avoid strikes, and deprecates exorbitant demands which would result in closing the factories altogether.

The manifesto says the Chinese must understand that the nationalists do not intend to create a general antiforeign movement, but seek to abolish "all institutions and systems of imperialism."

They will not attempt to gain their purposes by military force, but will use propaganda. The aims of the nationalists are given as abolition of unequal treaties, alteration of the status of the Shanghai international settlement, withdrawal of extraterritorial privileges for foreigners, disposal of the mission schools, and recovery of control of the Postoffice and customs.

General Pai Tsung-hsi, in addition to being commander of the Cantonese forces in Shanghai, is chief of staff to General Chiang Kai-shek, the Cantonese generalissimo.

MAYOR BUYS LIMOUSINE

Miller's New Packard Will Cost City $4500.

Mayor Miller has purchased a blue Packard limousine for his official use. When he succeeded Henry W. Kiel as Mayor in April, 1925, he traded in his predecessor's old Packard on a Moon, a St. Louis product, announcing he wished to patronize home industries. A year later he traded in the Moon on a Diana, also made in St. Louis.

In the latest deal the Diana was traded in for $900 and an additional $4500 will be paid for the new Packard. The Mayor's automobile and chauffeur's salary are provided for in the annual budget.

Statement on Income Tax Returns.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A Government official will be sent this year to every individual who filed an income tax return, showing whether or not it was correctly made out, the Treasury Department announces. It is estimated that the work of auditing the returns will be completed in June. Notices, however, will not be sent out until several months later.

KOELN SUED ON DEBT FOR RECALL CAMPAIGN

Foristel Also Defendant—Collector Says Action Is Based "On Suspicion."

A suit on account, filed today against the organization which promoted the defunct effort to recall Mayor Miller, names Collector Koeln, a political opponent of the Mayor, and Edward W. Foristel, Koeln's attorney and political henchman, as defendants. There has been secrecy as to the identity of persons backing the recall movement.

The suit, in Circuit Court, was filed by R. L. Polk & Co. against John J. Heil, manager and spokesman of the recall; Joseph M. Ebling, who was named publicly as its treasurer; Koeln, Foristel and others associated and doing business as the Miller Recall Organization, a voluntary organization. Names of the "others," the petition says, are not known to the plaintiff.

On June 17 last the Polk company entered a written agreement with the defendants, the suit declares, to obtain signatures to recall petitions, for which it was to be paid 10 cents each. The company obtained 3762 bona fide signatures, for which it was entitled to $376.20, it is claimed, but the defendants refused to pay.

A copy of the alleged contract, filed with the suit, shows that it was signed by William E. Wagner, manager for R. L. Polk & Co., and by Heil as chairman of the recall organization, and Ebling as treasurer. Signatures of Koeln and Foristel are not shown.

"Suspicion," Says Koeln.

Koeln said today he had no "slightest idea" why he should have been made a defendant, adding, "The suit must be based on suspicion."

He declared he had had no dealings with the company. Foristel said he knew nothing about the matter, except that some company, possibly the Polk, had telephoned to inquire if he thought Heil was a responsible person. He declared he had no recollection of the matter.

At the time of his return here from Hornell, police said Dr. Houck had told them he quarreled with his wife, but that he was certain he had not killed her. He had awakened in the night, he said, "from a good dream," just in time to see her slip through the door. When he awoke at daybreak she still was missing and he went in search. Failing to find her, he apparently collapsed and disappeared himself.

Dr. Houck at the Home of Cousin in Albany, Ore.

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—Dr. Knute Houck, formerly of Washington, is at the home of a cousin, Dr. Dean Growell, at Albany, Ore., having arrived there three days ago, said Dr. Growell today.

"Dr. Houck came West with his mother on a vacation trip, recuperating following a nervous breakdown," said Dr. Growell. "The family has been convinced all along that his wife ended her own life. The circumstances of the finding of the body, as reported in dispatches today, would seem to bear out this theory."

TAXES 1200 PER CENT HIGHER

St. Clair County Farmer Compares 1856 and 1926 Receipts.

Old tax receipts exhibited in Belleville yesterday by Henry Dietrich, a farm resident, between Freeburg and Fayetteville in St. Clair County, show the increase in farm land assessment since 1856. Dietrich owns a 970-acre farm. In 1856 the tax on the property was $1.14. The tax paid last year amounted to $12.61. In 1858 the tax was $2.60, just 4 cents more than a bushel of wheat that was raised on the acreage. Taxes are for county, State and special assessments.

Special Recalls Pet From Zoo.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Rebecca, pet raccoon of President Coolidge, is again in good standing at the White House. She has been brought back after a week's unplanned banishment in the zoo. The raccoon was sent to the White House as a table offering last Thanksgiving, but she won her way into the heart of the President and is now his favorite pet.

MISSING WOMAN MYSTERY REVIVED BY BODY IN RIVER

Identified at Washington by Cards as That of Mrs. Gladys Houck Who Disappeared Dec. 17.

HUSBAND ORDERED HELD FOR INQUIRY

Doctor Was Found Irrational on Streets in Underwear Two Days After Search for Wife.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—After the finding of a woman's body in the Potomac River today Washington police telegraphed to the Madison, Wis., authorities to take into custody for investigation, Dr. Knute Houck, formerly a physician at St. Elizabeth's Hospital here, whose wife, Gladys, disappeared several months ago.

Police said the body had been identified as that of Mrs. Houck by calling cards on her person.

The woman had been missing from her home here since Dec. 17. Dr. Houck was found in an extremely nervous condition at Hornell, N. Y., five days later and was brought back to Washington, where for a time he was held for observation.

Mrs. Houck was last seen alive on the night of Dec. 17, when several doctors from St. Elizabeth's Hospital visited the Houcks at their home. Two days later Dr. Houck was found tramping the streets of Hornell, clothed in his underwear.

He was never able to throw any light on his wife's disappearance, although he had expressed doubts that she was still alive. After undergoing treatment both here and in Baltimore, Dr. Houck went to Wisconsin to join his relatives. A small child, left alone by the doctor, was taken in charge by Mrs. Houck's parents.

No charge has ever been placed against Dr. Houck here. The condition of the body today was such that it was difficult to determine how death was caused.

A preliminary examination of body showed no traces of foul play, but an autopsy was ordered for later in the day.

In addition to the calling cards, which the doctor still clutched tightly in the woman's hand, a wedding license also was found and a wedding ring, bearing the initials "K. H. H." remained on a finger. District Attorney Gordon took charge of the case and took steps to have the physician held.

At the time of his return here from Hornell, police said Dr. Houck had told them he quarreled with his wife, but that he was certain he had not killed her. He had awakened in the night, he said, "from a good dream," just in time to see her slip through the door. When he awoke at daybreak she still was missing and he went in search. Failing to find her, he apparently collapsed and disappeared himself.

HONGKONG, March 23.—British warships attacked a Chinese pirate ship in the South China Sea today, and demolished their huts. There was no bloodshed. The aircraft carrier Hermes and two cruisers took part in the action and returned here tonight.

The action was to punish the pirates for a long series of depredations upon shipping to and from Hongkong, and to break up, if possible, their base of operations. Pirates looted the Indo-China Navigation Co.'s steamer Hopsang Monday night.

Close to Solar Time.

"That's true," Hayes remarked. "St. Louis longitude is 90 degrees 12 minutes west. Central time is nineteenth meridian time. St. Louis actually is only 48 seconds ahead of solar time, although, for practical purposes, it is put at a minute."

"By turning up the clock for daylight saving, St. Louis would move an hour and one minute ahead of natural time. Chicago, by Central time, is 10 minutes slower than solar time, and by daylight saving it moves only 50 minutes ahead of the sun. New York is four minutes slower than solar time, and by daylight saving it moves the clocks 55 minutes ahead of the sun."

"Cincinnati, which has moved up to Eastern time for the year round, had the handicap, under Central time, of being nearly 23 minutes behind the sun. Now the Cincinnati clocks are less than 38 minutes ahead of the sun."

"Both the longitude—in the time of sunrise—and the latitude—in the comparative warmth of St. Louis as a more southern city—enter into the workers' objection to daylight saving. And it applies not merely to factory or trade workers, but to everyone who must arise before 7 a. m. Central time."

Evenings Warm in St. Louis.

"St. Louis evenings are much warmer than in New York and Chicago, where the margin between Standard time and solar time is not greatly larger than here. Cincinnati and St. Louis have approximately the same temperatures. But the margin there between conventional and solar time is so great that even with daylight saving, most Cincinnati workers still may sleep through the cool hour of the morning."

"The earth begins cooling by radiation towards evening as the sun's rays become less direct. That cooling goes on steadily through the night until the sun rises and its incoming heat exceeds the output of radiation. In St. Louis the temperatures generally drop steadily until a half-hour after sunrise, when the sun reaches an angle where its heat exceeds that given off by the earth's radiation."

WEATHER MAN AGAINST PUSHING CLOCK AHEAD

Says It Would Throw Physical Strain on Early Rising Worker.

The man who for 17 years up in his office and laboratory on the twenty-first floor of the Railway Exchange Building has recorded the weather and the temperature for every hour and made forecast of what was to come the next day or night, today joined the forces opposed to daylight saving in St. Louis.

Montrose W. Hayes, head of the Weather Bureau since 1910, not only agreed with Mayor Kiel that St. Louis has particular grounds for a lower berth, according to A. V. Burr, superintendent of the Pullman Co., here. He did not know when they would be available in St. Louis.

Illumination is furnished by parchment-shaded lamps, one a reading lamp at the head of the bed.

BODIES OF GOOD-WILL FLYERS ARRIVE IN U. S.

Ship Bearing Two Pan-American Flight Victims Escorted by Airplanes.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 23.—The bodies of Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John W. Benton, Pan-American good-will flyers, who were killed Feb. 26 in Buenos Aires, were brought home today for a final resting place on American soil.

With army airplanes from Mitchell field circling overhead, the liner Vauban, flags at half-mast, slowly crept up the harbor to its pier in Hoboken with the bodies.

The planes were in formation suggestive of that assumed by the flight machines in the South American disaster, with a vacant space at the left of the leader, representing the place of the Detroit, the plane of Capt. Woolsey and Lieut. Benton. Riding in the squad were Assistant Secretary of War Davidson and Brigadier-General Fechet, assistant chief of the Army Air Service.

As military and naval officers and a company of the 16th Infantry stood at attention, the flag-draped caskets were lowered from the vessel. The regimental band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee." A detachment of Hoboken mounted police led the funeral procession to the railroad station where the bodies were sent to the West.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Democratic leaders are preparing to start the 1928 political campaign a full year ahead of time. On Jefferson's birthday, April 15, they purpose to organize State and County rallies everywhere throughout the country.

Both the National and the Congressional Campaign Committees of the party are sending letters to the party leaders urging that the day be made one of nation-wide reconstruction to the principles of Jefferson.

"These meetings should be devoted to a teaching of Democratic principals, and not to a discussion of candidates," says one of these letters. "The deep purpose of the plan will fall of accomplishment if the meetings be diverted from principles to personalities."

BIRGER AND AID QUESTIONED ON PRICE MURDER

Gang Leader and Connie Ritter Under Examination
by Illinois State Highway Police.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR JACK CREWS

Theory Is That Officer Was Abducted and Slain by Seven Gunmen "to Keep His Mouth Shut."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HARRISBURG, Ill., March 23.—
Charlie Birger, the gang leader,
and one of his chief lieutenants, Connie Ritter, were questioned by State highway policemen this afternoon in the inquiry into the abduction and murder of Lory Price, highway patrolman of Marion, whose bullet-riddled body was found Feb. 5 in a field near Du Bois.

Chief John Stack of the highway police, who has directed the Price murder inquiry, called at Birger's home here today. He was accompanied by Sgt. C. W. Roth. Later Birger and Ritter accompanied the officers to the Horning Hotel, where they went into a room. Four other highway policemen were present.

Since the arrest of Jack Crews in Akron, O., on March 12, it has been known that the State highway police have conducted their inquiry on the theory that Price and his wife were abducted by members of Birger's gang, following warnings sent to him to "keep his mouth shut."

Crews, one of Birger's henchmen, still is in jail at Nashville, where he repeatedly has been questioned, as have a number of others who are reported to have made statements giving evidence to the theory of the investigators.

A warrant, charging murder, has been issued against Crews. From information available it appears that seven men figured in the abduction of Patrolman and Mrs. Price.

No trace has been found of Mrs. Price, and the State police are convinced she also was murdered. Price was at "Shady Rest," Birger's roadside near here, an hour before it was dynamited and burned last Sunday with the loss of four lives. He was on friendly terms with the rival Birger and Shelton gangs, and talked frequently about the activities of both factions.

REACH ST. LOUIS IN FIRST LEG OF 6000-MILE AIRPLANE TRIP

Party of Continental Motors
Officers Land at Lambert-St. Louis Field, Later Depart for Kansas City.

A party of officers of the Continental Motors Corporation arrived at Lambert-St. Louis Flying Field this afternoon on the first leg of a 6000-mile business trip by airplane. Those in the plane, in addition to the pilot and mechanic, were Ross W. Judson, president of the Continental Corporation; W. R. Angell, vice president; Harry D. Kline, advertising manager, and W. R. Angell Jr.

They left Detroit last evening, spent the night at Bryan, O., took off this morning at 9:30 o'clock and landed here at 1 p. m. They were met by Stewart McDonald, president of the Moon Motor Co., and visited the Moon plant. Later they departed for Kansas City.

The plane, a 12-passenger, four-engine Fokker, is owned by Continental Motors, and is used regularly by Judson for business trips. The present journey will be to the Pacific Coast and return to Detroit.

RUSH FOR RENO DIVORCES

48 Suits in 48 Hours Under Three Months' Residence Law.

By the Associated Press.
RENO, Nev., March 23.—In the last 48 hours 48 suits for divorce have been filed in the Reno courts. The rush has developed as the result of the new three months' residence law which was passed by the recent Legislature.

Even when Reno, under the advantages of the six months' residence law, was celebrated as a divorce center, the filing of separation suits never reached such numbers as now. Forty-eight suits in a month was a comparatively high record then.

ENGINE STARTER FOR PLANES

New Device Being Tested by Navy
Weights 20 Pounds.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—An airplane engine starter, which sets the propeller spinning at the touch of a button, is being tested at the Anacostia Naval Air Station.

The new apparatus, which adds less than 20 pounds to the weight of the plane, will enable the pilot to take off without the need of an assistant to swing the propeller. The device turns the engine into firing position by compressed air, and at the same time forces a properly carbureted mixture of gasoline into the cylinders. It was invented by C. F. Heywood of Detroit.

Foreigners Remain Indoors.

Although the residents of the foreign settlements felt a sense of security through confidence in their defense forces, the people generally obeyed the advice of the Municipal Council to remain in their homes. Some bullets and shells from the Chapel fighting fell into the foreign settlements, causing anxiety, but no casualties among the foreign residents were reported.

A fate similar to that of Shanghai seems to be hanging over Nanking, as the Southern armies continued to close in around that place. American Women on Destroyers.

Scores of American women and children are on the destroyers No. and Preston. The United States gunboat Isabel, with Rear Admiral Hough aboard, has left Hankow for Nanking.

Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, the Cantonese Commander-in-Chief, has started for Nanking, and probably will go to the Nanking front. Proclamations have appeared at Wuhu, in the name of Chiang Kai-shek, calling on the Chinese to protect foreign life and property.

A foreign military observer, just returned to Shanghai, reported that the morale of the troops defending Nanking is low. They complain of not having been paid for months and are asking why they should continue fighting.

Chinking, about 40 miles east of Nanking, is still in the hands of the Northern forces. All is quiet there.

Wush, midway between Chinking and Shanghai, on the railway line, has been captured by the Cantonese.

Red Flags Everywhere.

Red was the prevailing color in Shanghai yesterday, even in the foreign settlements. Kuomintang flags were unfurled everywhere by Chinese welcoming the Nationalists. The Nanking road was a long vista of red banners with their white suns in a blue field in the upper left corner—the Kuomintang flag. A view from a high building in the city showed a forest of red flags, one being raised over the former headquarters of Gen. Pi Sun-shen, Shantungese commander in Shanghai.

Outside of the bloody districts, north of the international settlement, the spirit of the day among the Chinese was one of celebration rather than of war.

In the native city adjoining the French concession, students and workers staged a monster parade and demonstration, in which red flags with the Soviet hammer and sickle were noticeable. The marchers included thousands of women workers, some of the flapper type, and others old and with bound feet.

It was noteworthy that virtually all sports, of which the Shanghai foreign community is especially fond, were suspended, but a few incurable golfers braved the bullets falling on the race course links and one reported that his golf bag was pierced.

Curiosity of Foreigners.

MRS. SNYDER BEGS IN VAIN TO ATTEND HUSBAND'S BURIAL

Police Refuse Plea From Widow Accused With Gray of Murder; First Degree
Indictments Sought.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Albert Snyder, murdered art editor of a magazine, was buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery today while his wife, held in jail with her admirer, Henry Judd Gray, a corset salesman charged with the killing, pleaded to be allowed to attend the services. Her request was denied by police.

As the funeral cortege left the Snyder home, heavily guarded from a curious crowd numbering thousands who lined the way, the Queens County grand jury was called into session and District Attorney Newcombe asked for first-degree murder indictments against the two prisoners.

Haddon Gray and Harry Platt, Syracuse friends of Henry Judd Gray, were released today by District Attorney Newcombe, who said he was convinced they had no guilty connection with the establishment of an alibi for Gray.

Admits Part in "Alibi."
The District Attorney said Haddon Gray had made a full and frank statement of his part in the "alibi" which he represented himself over Gray's Hotel room telephone in Syracuse as Gray, mailed letters for Gray and otherwise helped make it appear Gray was in Syracuse when he was not.

He did this, however, the District Attorney said he felt certain, under the mistaken idea that he was helping Henry Judd Gray keep from his wife the knowledge of a supposed clandestine engagement. Gray had said he had in New York. Haddon Gray came to New York refusing to believe in the guilt of his friend, Henry, and told detectives he would not believe anything against him until he heard the story from Henry's "own lips." District Attorney Newcombe said, "Judd, are you guilty?"

"Yes, answered the prisoner, "I lied to you. I didn't know what I was doing. I'm sorry I got you into this terrible mess."

The two men looked at one another a few moments, and then Newcombe told the reporters, the Syracuse man turned to the officers present and explained his own part in "lumping the bed" for his friend, telephoning from his room, and mailing the letter with the postmark which was to establish definitely the "perfect alibi" for his friend.

Repeal Their Confessions.

Judd Gray and Mrs. Snyder yesterday admitted the murder, each accusing the other of striking the final blow, but later they recanted their confession, through counsel. Attorneys charged duress was employed.

Only close friends and relatives were allowed to be present at the burial and the extent of the injuries of the other two were not disclosed. The Admiral merely saying two other Americans had been reported as injured.

British Officer Threatened by Mob of Students.

LONDON, March 23.—Lieutenant-Colonel Heywood of the British defense force and a small party of Britishers narrowly escaped being mobbed in the native city of Shanghai yesterday, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from his Shanghai correspondent, Sir Percival Phillips.

The dispatch says that Heywood and his party went by automobile to the native city to interview the Cantonese Gen. Chou to discuss means of alleviating the general situation.

The British car was caught in a mob of students, who, shouting, "Kill the foreign dogs," called for the executioner. The latter appeared in black clothes ready to perform his office, the dispatch says, when Gen. Chou's bodyguard rescued the Britishers in the nick of time.

Northern Army Fighting Shantungese Beaten.

LONDON, March 23.—A Pekin dispatch to the Westminster Gazette says that Gen. Chang Tsung-chang, the Shantungese leader who has just lost Shanghai, has been advised by Pekin to defend Nanking.

It was announced at Northern army headquarters that five divisions of the Honan General, Chin Yun-ao, who has been opposing the Northern forces, were shattered in a two-day battle near Kaifeng, while endeavoring to retake Chengchow, which was captured by the Manchurian war lord, Marshal Chang Tso-lin.

French police in Shanghai, says a dispatch to the Daily Express, prevented a riot when 400 students of Aurora University, conducted by the Jesuits, rebelled, demanding that the name of the school be changed forthwith to Sun Yat-sen University. A communist agitator was appointed by the students as president of the university.

Rioting was imminent, the dispatch adds, when the French police elected the students, who swore to attack and seize "all Christian properties in Shanghai."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Roy D. Chapin, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, denied to Senator Smoot yesterday a rumor that his organization had made an agreement with Cuba's sugar interests to work for a lower American sugar tariff in return for favorable treatment for American automobiles entering Cuba.

Chapin said Cuban Ambassador Ferrera had broached the subject of sugar tariffs in their relation to motor imports to him "during an informal conversation participated in by one of his countrymen."

Military Rule Ends in Coffeyville.

By the Associated Press.
COFFEYVILLE, Kan., March 23.—Orders terminating military rule here were issued last night by Adjutant-General McLean at the request of local civil authorities. The National Guard unit, which was called out last Friday to quell a race riot in which four persons were injured, was ordered demobilized.

Snyder funeral. Mrs. Josephine Brown, mother of Mrs. Snyder, walked aimlessly about the house, avoided by relatives of Snyder.

"I'd rather be in his coffin," said the minister officiating, "than one of those persons responsible for his death. He will receive his reward."

Gray Talks With Wife.

Gray, in a conversation with his wife, New York papers say, told her his confession and made of his own free will and blamed bad liquor for the crime. Mrs. Gray desires to help her husband avoid the electric chair.

Mrs. Snyder and Gray planned to elope to Europe on the $50,000 insurance money of Mrs. Snyder's husband, an official said today.

District Attorney Newcombe said that Haddon Gray admitted today he had disposed of a stained vest belonging to the salesman.

The accused pair's elopement plan was outlined in one of two intercepted letters exchanged between Gray and Mrs. Snyder. She was to plead a nervous breakdown after the insurance money was paid and was to join Gray in Canada, whence they would go to Europe.

Mrs. Snyder's 9-year-old daughter was to be left with the widow's mother, while Gray planned simply to disappear, without a word to his wife or daughter. It was this letter, police stated, which finally caused Gray's confession.

BILL REGULATING BUS COMPANIES UP TO GOVERNOR

Act Passed by Legislature Places Their Control in Hands of State Public Service Commission.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 23.—A motorbus regulation act placing bus companies of the State under control of the State Public Service Commission but releasing to cities the control of their streets and the licensing of buses, passed by the Legislature today over vigorous opposition of Senator Casey of Kansas City, who contended the effect of the measure would be to enable the railroad and transportation companies to obtain a monopoly on bus traffic.

The bill provides for licensing of buses outside the larger cities, the rates running from $40 a year for buses having a capacity of not more than seven passengers and running up to $250 a year for buses having a capacity of 24 or more passengers.

In opposing the measure Senator Casey in addition to lengthy debate sought to use every parliamentary scheme he could devise, but the Senate voted down his appeals from the ruling of the chair, and his other objections.

No Conference Necessary.

The measure passed was a House amendment to the Senate bus bill, the House having struck out the entire Senate bill and substituted the contents of a House bill. By bringing the Senate bill up for concurrence in the House amendment, Senator McCawley of Carthage, who has charge of the attempted bus legislation in two sessions of the Legislature, avoided the possibility of Senate amendments.

As chairman of the highway committee to which the House bill was referred McCawley held that bill in committee while bringing out the Senate bill as amended in the House. There was no action on the Senate bill until after the House amendment or to reject it. Rejection would have sent the bill to a conference committee.

Emergency Clause Defeated.

In view of the recent reports of the People's Motor Bus Co. of St. Louis, that it had operated at a loss there were reports in Jefferson City that such an application might be expected soon after the act goes into effect, which will be 90 days after the adjournment of the Legislature, an emergency clause which would have made it effective as soon as signed by the Governor having failed to pass.

Senator Casey's contention was that the railroad companies throughout the State, whose local business had been raised by cross-State and intercounty bus systems.

DOCTORS WINNING CONTROL OF INFLUENZA ON TRANSPORT

Ship May Reach San Francisco Tonight; Thirty Taken Off Sick List.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Reassuring messages from the United States Army transport, Chateau-Thierry, were that ship's doctors were gaining control over the influenza epidemic aboard. The vessel is racing for this port with 60-odd cases of influenza aboard. Four of its 900 passengers have died since the ship left New York. Indications were that the Chateau-Thierry would make port late today.

It was said the influenza epidemic did not become serious until after the transport had left Panama and that prompt work by the medical staff had reduced the casualties to a minimum. Six new patients were reported yesterday and the names of 50 who had recuperated were taken off the sick list.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 23.—Virtual suspension of Illinois mining activity as almost inevitable, the executive committee of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association held a conference here today, heard reports from other fields and took stock of the situation.

Suspension of work will not deprive Illinois of coal from the State because mines are working full force now and on April 1 will have between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 tons in storage.

The bill provides for licensing of buses outside the larger cities, the rates running from $40 a year for buses having a capacity of not more than seven passengers and running up to $250 a year for buses having a capacity of 24 or more passengers.

Bill Seeks to Stop Dog Racing

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 23.—A humane bill, designed to stop dog racing, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator John Dennis of Chicago.

"Thousands of dollars are lost in the public gambling on dog races," he said. "There are no dogs to make the best dog run but overfeeding." The dog races, he said, are a disgrace to the State and are a source of shame to the State.

The State Expert Testifies.
The State was allowed only one expert witness, Mrs. Emily Grant Hutchings, an art critic. She testified that many of the illustrations in the magazine at issue were of the nature of a nude portrait in art gallery is different from that on the page of a cheap magazine, and that intent had been made to do with purity of the advertising in the periodical.

She particularly objected to the advertising in the periodical shown her, saying that no reputable art magazine would carry such advertisements. After permitting Mrs. Hutchings to testify, Judge Gayer indicated that he would rule out other expert testimony. This was the second time that a prosecutor has disagreed with the Judge's selection of expert testimony.

The attitude of the large crowd assembled for the trial contributed what Graves considered an impossible situation. Besides Mrs. Hutchings, two vice officers were present and testified that they were members of the morality and testified that they had seen the magazine's illustrations in the past and that they were of a nature that was not artistic, but vulgar, and unfit for publication among young people.

The subject under discussion was the defense counsel with many opportunities for factiousness. Molasky was tried on a similar charge in the Court of Criminal Appeals in September, 1925 but was acquitted. His effort of the matter followed a campaign of various social agencies to check the sale of vulgar magazines.

Judge Gayer, in explaining his ruling of the trial remarked: "You had very little on the statute books to guide us in this case."

Operators Prepare for an Indefinite Suspension Because of Dispute Over Wages.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 23.—Viewing suspension of Illinois mining April 1 as almost inevitable, the nine executive committees of the board of directors of the Illinois Coal Operators held a conference here today, heard reports from other fields and took stock of their own resources.

Suspension of work will not deprive Illinois of coal from its own State because mines are working full force now and on April 1 will have between 80,000,000 and 100,000,000 tons in storage.

Rice Miller, chairman of the executive committee, said he saw no escape from a strike of indefinite length. He refused to speculate on how long the strike might last but heard a 90-day shutdown talked of.

While the industry will suffer greatly by a shutdown, Miller said, both operators and miners would also suffer by a renewal of the Jacksonville scale. Already 15 per cent of the bituminous coal of the nation is coming from non-union fields.

Suspension April 1 would throw 72,000 Illinois miners in 200 miles out of work. Their average wage now is $7.50 a day and they are working on an average of 18 days a month. Their loss in wages would be about $500,000 a day.

Operators at the conference said they had no information of agreements signed in the outlying fields.

Would Cost Coolest Hour. "From that you may see that daylight saving would not affect the morning rest of anyone who now rises a 7 o'clock or later. For the thousands of workers in that position daylight saving would cost that coolest hour, for they would have to arise at 5 a. m., when it begins."

Hayes explained that daylight saving however, could not affect him personally, for the international comparison of weather records made it imperative that the hours of taking observations be left unchanged. "But I do not see how the opponents of the movement on personal grounds can be called selfish, any more than its proponents," he said. "Rising at 5 or even 5:30 in the period of evenings too warm for early rest will throw a decided physical strain on not only the worker, but the whole household which must keep to that schedule."

Officers of 53 St. Louis banks and trust companies will be summoned before the Board of Equalization at City Hall within the next few weeks to be questioned about the personal property tax returns made by the various banking corporations. City Assessor Gehner announced today, explaining he hoped to increase the taxable assessments about $1,000,000 as a result of the inquiry.

Officials of the various banks will be examined on different days. It is planned to compare the returns for taxes with the reports made to the State Finance Department by the banks and to discuss what differences may be found.

The Rev. John S. Bunting of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, officiated. Burial will be in Kansas City tomorrow under Masonic auspices.

Mr. Mara, born in Canada, moved to Syracuse, Mo., when a boy. He entered the Missouri Pacific's employ there as a night telegraph operator and later became operator and agent in several towns. He came to the general office here in 1905 as chief clerk to the general manager. He might have retired on pension several years ago, but declined. He lived with a son, Thomas H. Mara. His wife died three years ago. Two sisters, Miss Anna B. Mara of Kansas City and Mrs. Mary H. Keelil of Syracuse, survive.

Discipline in the Court. Gallagher got a rebuke from the court when he remained seated he sought to bring the defense attorney back into the field covered by formal allegations in the suit.

"I desire no controversy with counsel," boomed Reel. "Counsel will rise to his feet, then address his remarks to the court," ruled Judge Raymond. "Very well, sir," replied Gallagher. "Very well," said Reel. Sapiro again saved Gallagher's voice by som. more extensive reading.

Sapiro read a letter dated Aug. 26, 1924, to the Dearborn Independent from Charles Cherry, a grower, which said Sapiro had nothing to do with losses of the Northwest Hay Association. Unscrupulous dealers had been responsible for irregularities, it said. Stewart Hanley, Ford attorney, read a letter to E. R. Donaldson A. Dunn, writer of the article regarding the Northwest Hay Association. Dunn defended the accuracy of the story attacked by Cherry and quoted his authority. Cherry's address was given as Yakima, Wash.

Judge Raymond said the letter from Cherry to the Dearborn Publishing Co. could not be admitted as evidence for to do so would open the way for too many such communications. As to Dunn's reply, he said a reporter, doctor or lawyer could make mistakes and yet be very competent. Dunn's reputation would have to be decided by his general reputation, the judge said, rather than by what any one said of him in letters to the Independent.

Gallagher asked Judge Raymond he was not trying to prove to the jury by Cherry's letter that Dunn was unreliable, but merely that the defendants were informed of inaccuracies in Dunn's stories. Gallagher asked Judge Raymond to reconsider his ruling, but the Court refused. Sapiro's counsel noted an exception.

Gallagher asked that he be permitted to withdraw Cameron and put on other witnesses to prove the falsity of the articles, holding Cameron in the background. Judge Raymond said he believed this.

ADMITS HE WROTE ARTICLES RAKING IMPEACHED JUDGE

Clell Maple, Muncie, Ind., Manufacturer, Testifies in State Senate Trial of C. W. Dearth.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 23.—Clell Maple, a manufacturer of Muncie, Ind., who wrote the anonymous article in the Indianapolis Journal last week, said today in the State Senate trial of Judge C. W. Dearth of the Delaware County Circuit Court to confiscate copies of the Muncie Post-Democrat, and arrest newsmen for selling the paper, testified today in the impeachment trial of Judge Dearth before the Indiana State Senate. He said he had written the article attacking Dearth and Mayor John C. Hampton more than six months after a conversation with the judge and after he had been convinced that the city was not being cleaned of its gamblers, bootleggers and other law violators.

The article, appearing in the weekly newspaper, which was published by George R. Dale, said the blame for the two murders in Muncie about that time rested on Dearth and Hampton. It had both the judge and the Mayor responsible for conditions leading up to the murders.

Article Offered in Evidence. Dearth was busy this morning, advising counsel repeatedly. They succeeded in being permitted to put into evidence a copy of Maple's article to show that he was a prejudiced witness. The House Board of Managers protested against this, declaring nothing was contained in the charges against Dearth relating to Dale and that they wanted to stay clear of that feature of the case.

Four Muncie newsmen were prosecution witnesses yesterday. The boys testified that no warrant had been read them before they were hauled into Dearth's Court for selling newspapers containing an attack on him. The youngsters told of being taken before the judge on Feb. 19. They said he threatened them with being placed on probation if they persisted in selling the Muncie Post-Democrat, edited by George R. Dale, who for years has conducted an editorial crusade against Dearth.

Boy Says He Was Slapped. One of the boys, John Kanes, 14 years old, told of being called a liar by the policeman who arrested him. The boy also said he was slapped by Ira Pittenger, a court attaché.

Undaunted by the warning which they said Judge Dearth gave them that they should not sell any more Post-Democrats unless he gave them permission, at least two of the boys bought more papers. They were arrested and taken to court a second time on the same day. In all between 35 and 40 newsmen were taken before Judge Dearth, according to the testimony. Judge Dearth explained to the boys that the newspaper contained lies and that the newspaper contained lies and that the newspaper contained lies.

Two Senators, attorneys by profession, sat beside Lieutenant Governor Van Orman, the presiding officer, to advise him in legal procedure in acting on the objections Van Orman is a business man.

to "put the works" on hesitant farmers. Charge of Bolshevism. Another part of the article declared by Sapiro to be libelous said: "The story of the loot of the Ford brothers' estate, going to be told, but first there is an outstanding example of the combination of Jews and radicalism, a clear exposition of the hand-in-hand working of the notorious Sapiro plan of marketing the principles of bolshevism which must be told."

Cameron testified that at the time of the publication of the article he was informed of the presence of I. W. W. and communists in the Northwest Hay Association. He had no definite knowledge now, he said, of any definite information, but letters on file might reveal it. Gallagher had taken up the question and ran into a legal wrangle which caused the jury to be sent out of the courtroom.

This question was intended to pave the way for the submission of a letter from an unnamed person concerning the articles complained of by Sapiro.

Senator Reed argued the inadmissibility of unnamed person's documents from a third person not party to the suit at issue. Reed argued against the principle of permitting the reading against every newspaper published of all letters written by irresponsible persons.

Discipline in the Court. Gallagher got a rebuke from the court when he remained seated he sought to bring the defense attorney back into the field covered by formal allegations in the suit.

"I desire no controversy with counsel," boomed Reel. "Counsel will rise to his feet, then address his remarks to the court," ruled Judge Raymond. "Very well, sir," replied Gallagher. "Very well," said Reel. Sapiro again saved Gallagher's voice by som. more extensive reading.

Sapiro read a letter dated Aug. 26, 1924, to the Dearborn Independent from Charles Cherry, a grower, which said Sapiro had nothing to do with losses of the Northwest Hay Association. Unscrupulous dealers had been responsible for irregularities, it said. Stewart Hanley, Ford attorney, read a letter to E. R. Donaldson A. Dunn, writer of the article regarding the Northwest Hay Association. Dunn defended the accuracy of the story attacked by Cherry and quoted his authority. Cherry's address was given as Yakima, Wash.

Judge Raymond said the letter from Cherry to the Dearborn Publishing Co. could not be admitted as evidence for to do so would open the way for too many such communications. As to Dunn's reply, he said a reporter, doctor or lawyer could make mistakes and yet be very competent. Fantastic Court Room For Ford Libel Trial

Flamboyant Decorations, in Early Michigan Moorish Style, Contrast Vividly With Iron Decorum Enforced

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—It would be difficult to imagine a more bizarre setting for a lawsuit than that in which the great legal battle of Sapiro vs. Ford is being fought here.

According to local history, when the Federal building was being completed, it was discovered that $50,000 of the appropriation remained and it was decided to lavish it upon the interior of the Federal courtroom. The result is fearful and wonderful. The period might be described as early Michigan Moorish. Beside it, Moslem Temple. In St. Louis is positively Mid-Victorian. It looks as if it had started out to be a harem, and then decided to be something entirely novel.

Each door and window is impeded in a low mass of granite arch. The red marble walls are embellished with medallions, studded with stones of many colors. High above, where the domed ceiling meets the walls, is a row of small stained glass windows. The ceiling itself is brilliantly daubed. All the woodwork is mahogany, rich in carving. Most gorgeous of all is the bench. The background is composed of three concave panels of Italian marble, framed in red marble pillars. At either end of the massive desk stands a free

Corinthian column of purest marble, 15 feet high, and surmounted by four porphyry lions, sitting defiantly tall to tall, and bearing on their assembled backs a globe which may represent the earth.

The ancient crier who opens and closes the sessions, declares that the lions and the spheres are symbolical of the strength of the court. It may be noted that he completes his daily announcement with the invocation: "God save this honorable court."

Federal Judge Fred L. Raymond, who came down from Grand Rapids to try the case seems uneasy in all this magnificence. He is a large man with sunken eyes surrounded by dark circles, and maintains a manner of extreme severity. Because a camera was found in the courtroom a few days ago, and one reporter came in five minutes late, he called a meeting of the 30 visiting correspondents and complained that he was not receiving the proper co-operation from the press in maintaining order. With the exception of the United States Supreme Court, the writer has never seen a courtroom in which the decorum was stiffer. The judge told the reporters that a courtroom should maintain the dignity of a cathedral. The wild barbaric splendor of the setting makes this ideal difficult of achievement, but it approaches closely to the solemnity of a mosque.

After an hour and a half the jury was brought back and Gallagher began anew the questioning of Cameron, with the defense entering objections to every interrogation. Gallagher's questions concerned some of a series of 35 letters, but the opposing counsel declined the judge's suggestion that they argue outside the court.

Gallagher handed Cameron a letter. "Did you ever see this before and was it ever read to you?" he asked. Cameron pursed his lips, read it very carefully and 12 minutes later replied: "First I ever have seen of it."

Gallagher introduced a passage from an article referring to the American Farm Bureau. "This is the story of the effort by Aaron Sapiro to seize control of the American Farm Bureau Federation, take it completely away from the American farmer, clear it of American direction and operation and use it as a machine by which Jewry could come into power over the farmers, and all the farms of the United States," said the article.

In another place it said: "Between the lines one reads the story of the Jewish communistic movement in America, which seeks to make of the United States what it already has made of Russia."

Gallagher asked for letters in possession of the Dearborn Independent regarding the American Farm Bureau. He was not permitted to introduce them, however, the judge sustaining the defense objection.

The courtroom was warmer today and the windows were closed.

TRAIN ROBBER FOILED BY OWN REVOLVER

Discharge of Weapon So Frightened Him He Jumps From Car, Leaving $550 Behind.

By the Associated Press. ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 23.—A holdup man who attempted to rob the Carolina Special, crack passenger train on the Southern Railway, missed $550 when the discharge of his own revolver so frightened him that he jumped from the engine car last night.

Boarding the train as it neared this city, he entered the express car and thrust a revolver at J. H. McPeters, the messenger. "I'm not fooling, give me all you've got," the holdup man said. "He then rifled the safe only to find it empty. Turning upon McPeters, he attempted to bind him and in the scuffle the stranger's pistol was discharged, the messenger receiving a slight powder burn.

The noise of his own gun so frightened the holdup man that he retreated toward the door, over- looking an open satchel near the safe containing $550. Shortly before he had entered the car the money had been taken from the safe to be left off at Asheville.

Railroad officials believe the man was discharged, the messenger receiving a slight powder burn. ARMY MAN SAYS U. S. NEVER PICKED FOE ITS OWN SIZE

If It Had It Would Have Been Whipped to a Frazzle, Lieut. Col. LeRoy F. Smith Declares.

UNPREPARED, BUT LUCKY, HE EXPLAINS

He Tells St. Louis Reserve Officers That Stingy Policy With Army Encourages the Reds.

The penurious policy of the United States in the development of its armed forces, particularly intentionally, with the subversive program of the various Red influences in this country, Lieutenant-Colonel LeRoy F. Smith of the General Staff declared in an address today before the Reserve Officers' Association at the Missouri Athletic Association.

Col. Smith, a World War veteran, is not a professional soldier. A man of independent means, he is commissioned as a member of the Organized Reserves and for 13 months has been on active duty, supervising the management of army correspondence courses. He now is on a tour of the Sixth, Eighth and Ninth Corps areas, in the West and Midwest.

U. S. Lucky, That's All.

"If this country had ever chosen a fight with an enemy of its own size it would have been whipped to a frazzle," he declared. "As compared to other nations, we are supposed to be perhaps the most religious people in the world, and yet for 150 years we have been blithely laying our sacrifices on the altar of the cross-eyed goddess of luck. We have given her more human sacrifices than were ever given to Moloch. We have seen thousands upon thousands of our men killed needlessly, because we have always been unprepared to meet an enemy."

Col. Smith declared that of the seven major wars fought by the United States, the record in the Mexican conflict "is the only one of which we ought not to be ashamed from a military standpoint." He pointed out that our armies in the theater of war greatly outnumbered those of the foe in the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Spanish-American and the Seminole Wars, and won their victories by overcoming with sheer numbers in spite of a lack of preparation and an inadequacy of equipment.

Even in the World War, he pointed out, the United States was unprepared and engaged in no sizeable conflicts until 400 days after war had been declared. "Nowadays," he said, "we are encountering a school of alleged thought which is designated as running from mild pink to deep red. Internationalists, they call themselves, and they say the best citizen is the one who loves other countries as well as his own. They might as well say the best husband is the man who loves other wives as well as his own."

Classifies Subversive Schools. "Of the two apparent subdivisions of the subversive influences which are bitterly opposed to our preparation for war the most insidious, I think, is that which has four attributes. It is internationalistic, communistic, revolutionary and atheistic. That delightful organization, the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, is a good sample of this first school."

"Second, there is a school of thought, which, like the first is internationalistic, but reaches toward its aim from its conception of the teachings of religion and ideals. It is less active and less subversive than the first, but its work toward internationalism fits in perfectly with the most radical of red aims."

The speaker pointed out that the present "economy" policy in the management of the country's forces is in accord with the aims of the internationalists. The regular army is cut from its authorized strength of 250,000 to 125,000 men, he said, and the National Guard is cut more than 50 per cent below its strength as fixed by the national defense act.

FREED OF HIGHWAY ROBBERY BY JURY ON ALIBI TESTIMONY

Paul McCune, Identified by Store Manager, Was Home in Bed at Time, Family Swears.

Paul McCune, 29 years old, a metal worker of 2352 St. Ferdinand avenue, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit Judge Owsing's Court last night of highway robbery in the holdup of William Browns, 4762 Cupples place, a Kroger store manager, in which $13 was taken, Dec. 4, last.

He had been identified by Brown from a number of suspects arrested in a police "pick-up" and Brown identified him again from the witness stand as the man who had robbed him. Alibi witnesses, including his grandmother, mother and sister, testified that at the time of the holdup, about 6 a. m., he was at home in bed.

Two Armed Boys Rob Man of $5. Two boys about 14 years old, each armed with a revolver, held up William Wellmer, 1464 North Forty-second street, East St. Louis, at 9:20 o'clock last night near the intersection of Fourteenth street and College avenue and robbed him of $5.

CLOTHIERS ADVISED TO PAY FOR GOOD HELP

Atlanta Tells Convention That Merchants Lose Money by Hiring Incompetent Clerks.

High wages for good work and
"the gate" for poor work as a successful policy for any business was expounded at yesterday's sessions of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers by Louis C. Adler of Atlanta.

"We never saved any money on cheap help and I don't believe any business does," declared Adler, a leader of the group with annual incomes of $100,000 to $500,000.
"The more my men make, the better I like it, for then I know I'm making money."

High-pressure salesmanship
came in for a rap from Adler.
"We don't use force in selling goods. I don't want to see a salesman for me working like fury to put over a sale. I only want him to show the right goods the right way to the right customer. It's just as bad to sell an unbecoming suit as it is to lose the sale. You can send a customer out properly groomed, a walking advertisement
for your store."

Harmony Sometimes Hazardous.

Witely sarcasm was pointed out by President Henry B. Ober of Lawrence, Kan., as a large hazard
for clothiers who try to use "color harmony," chief weapon of their spring campaign, without knowing what it's all about.
"It's dynamite if you don't use
it right," Ober said. "If you sell
a man the wrong color, his wife tells him about it. She's the bird that knows her colors—generally.
Sometimes she doesn't. But you'd better play safe and spend 25 cents for a color card."

"Trade at home because you pay taxes there," means nothing," Ober declared. "Trade for you such remote consideration, but definite economic lines."

"If a garage man drives a customer to another town for better repairs, it costs you money. If the grocery store has too high prices,
it's up to you to see that there is at least one man in your town who does that job the way the customers like it. I've proved it over and over."

"We've long ago left the stage
where we felt that we lost money when the other fellow made it. If we get everybody, down to the butcher and grocer, to practice better selling, it will bring more money to the clothiers."

Clearance Sales Passing.

"Clearance sales" are passing,
said Ober, who went through 1926
without one. He argued strenuously against them and for buying only the right amount of up-to-date styles, citing that manufacturers estimated their prices would be 15 to 20 per cent lower if cancellations and returns were thus eliminated.

Everybody, cash customers or otherwise, received best attention from barber shops, a survey comparing 120,963 concerns showed.
Clothing was only a shade above average, but in another classification, of hospitality, courtesy and service to actual spenders, jumped from a score of 7 per cent to 19 per cent, near the top. Undertakers led the group. A third group, of service without courtesy or hospitality, was led by dance halls with 57.7 per cent, clothing following at 51 and undertakers at 49.

STREET WIDENING PLAN HALTED BY COURT

Suit Had to Do With Two Blocks of Lindell From Channing to Grand.

A suit to extend the widening of Lindell boulevard, between Channing avenue and Grand boulevard, from 80 to 100 feet, was ordered stricken from the filed today by Circuit Judge Hartmann, who sustained a motion by a group of property owners objecting to the procedure.

City Counselor Muench and Associate Counselors Senn and Phillips will confer tomorrow to determine to what extent this "bottle neck" in an important traffic artery and discuss what they can do about it.

Lindell is 60 feet wide for the two blocks involved, but 100 feet wide west of Grand boulevard. Olive street is to be widened this year to 100 feet, from Twelfth boulevard to its connection with Lindell at Channing. Thus there is to be a 100-foot thoroughfare from downtown to Forest Park, which would greatly add traffic, except for the bottle neck.

Suit First Filed in 1919. The original condemnation suit, to widen the two blocks to 80 feet, was filed in August, 1919, but an ordinance effective Nov. 26, 1924, amended the plan to make a 100-foot street and an amended petition was filed by the city in the condemnation suit, June 25, 1925. The amendment added the 20-foot strip to the plan and its owners among the defendants.

The objectors comprised a group of the persons thus affected. They were William L. Barnard, owner of a drug store at the southwest corner of Theresa avenue and Olive street; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wueger and Henry W. Fred C. and Fred Huppert. The drug store was involved in the revised plan, under a feature for facilitating traffic movement coming in from Theresa avenue. Lambert E. Walther, former City Counselor, was attorney for the objectors.

An entirely new condemnation proceeding should have been instituted to revise the plan, the objectors asserted, although this would have served to delay the improvement considerably. Walther pointed out that the city charter provides property taken by condemnation shall be paid for on a valuation as of the date of the condemnation ordinance.

Contention as to Values. Values of property were higher in 1925, when the project was extended, than in 1919, when the condemnation was started, the objectors argued, maintaining they would not be paid sufficiently for their property under this charter clause. The city's reply was that the valuation of their land would be as of the date of the 1924 amending ordinance, so that they would not suffer loss. Judge Hartmann held that this construction would violate the Charter.

There are at least two possibilities for the city—a proceed with the original suit for the 80-foot section and pass a new ordinance and enter a new suit for the other part, or to reinstitute the whole proceedings on the 100-foot basis, thereby incurring new delay. The judge temporarily set aside the commission which had been appointed to assess damages for condemning the 20 feet. A previous commission had fixed damages in the 80-foot condemnation at $88,469.

A Man of Rare Professional Attainment

The originator of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was the late Ray V. Pierce, M.D. At first he practiced medicine in Western Pennsylvania and his unusual ability and success were soon recognized there, then he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary where his famous home remedies have ever since been made. Each succeeding year the sale of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been greatly increased. Evidently people appreciate the fact that it increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, helps to enrich the blood, clears the skin of eruptions and blemishes, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young. It contains no harmful ingredient.

FOUR ST. LOUIS SENATORS WANT ORRICK REJECTED

Head of Police Board Is "Not Approachable," They Tell Committee in Secret Session.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

JEFFERSON CITY March 23.—
Opposition of the Republican organization in St. Louis to confirmation by the State Senate of Allen
C. Orrick, President of the St.
Louis Board of Police Commissioners, developed last night when the four Republican Senators appeared secretly before the Senate Committee on Municipal Corporations and demanded that Orrick's appointment by Gov. Baker be rejected. The Senators—Bates, Mog-ger, Warner and Duplehauer—succeeded in holding up the appointment, but the committee refused to take direct action for an unfavorable report.

Because of the nearness of the end of the session of the Legislature a report must be made within a few days, and the indications now are that the report will be favorable to Orrick, notwithstanding the opposition of the St. Louis Senators.

All appointments pending before the committee were acted upon
last night except that of Orrick,
which was postponed because of the request. None of the Senators placed his opposition on purely personal grounds, though that, owing to the rule of senatorial courtesy, probably would have been more effective.

Majority View of Opposition.
As it is, the committee, controlled by Democrats, looks upon the opposition as political and due to a reported failure of Orrick to permit political interference by the organization in the management of the department, and unless the minds of the Democratic Senators can be disabused of this opinion, there is little likelihood of Or-rick's rejection.

While none of the Senators admitted that a desire of politicians to be consulted about police affairs was the controlling influence in the opposition to Orrick,
they went as far as to tell the committee that Orrick was "not approachable."

They complained of the alleged extravagance of the department under Orrick, of which the committee
a few minutes before had heard much when it had under consideration the Beedle bills to give the city control of Police Department finances. This dealt particularly with the construction of the new Police Headquarters building and with the automobile expense. It was shown that the building is being constructed without a contract having been let for the building as a whole and that no definite estimate of the cost had been prepared. Commissioners Kortjohn and Freund, who appeared before the committee, had a rough estimate of $1,000,000 as the total cost.
Showing as to Autos.

It was shown that three expensive automobiles are maintained for the use of the Commissioners, and that the Chief of Police and the Chief of Detectives each has an expensive car. Commissioner Freund said the automobile expense for the fiscal year ending March 31 would be about $55,000.

All of this was gone over again
by the St. Louis Senators, who said they considered it sufficient reason for the Senate to reject Orrick. It is probable an executive session of the Senate will be called for tomorrow to pass upon all confirmations, and if that is done the Municipal Corporation Committee undoubtedly will take action on Orrick in time to report to this executive session.

It is also known here yesterday
that Senator Bates, who now opposes Orrick's confirmation, had written a letter on Nov. 1, last, addressed to voters in his precinct, in which he highly commended Or-rick's "magnificent record in directing the Police Department."
Bates has explained that this letter was part of the high pressure campaign conducted by the Republican City Committee and the Baker organization, to "save" Senator Williams, who was defeated at the election the following day by Harry R. Hawes.

HEAD OF SLOT MACHINE COMPANY ON TRIAL

Fred Pollnow Charged With Setting Up a Gambling Device.

Fred Pollnow, president of the Central Vending Machine Co., 3124 California avenue, and chief lieutenant of Jake Katz, operator of the big slot machine pool which ran in St. Louis last April, is on trial today in Circuit Judge Oasing's court, charged with setting up a gambling device. He already is under six months' jail sentence and $500 fine on a previous conviction, and the present trial is based on a second indictment involving about the same charges as the first. It is alleged by the State that through an agent saloon of William Sherman, 3360 South Jefferson avenue, in December, 1925.

The State's chief witness was Sherman, who admitted on the stand that the machine Pollnow caused to be set up in his place was one that paid winning players in nickels. He described how the machine, through a system of tubes and drawers, delivered nickels to the "pay off" drawer, thus involving the element of gambling which the State alleges.

Charles Schrier, an employee of the saloon, was more guarded in his testimony. He testified that the machine indicated through an arrangement of figures on a rotary dial what the winnings would be, if any, but he declared the proprietor of the place "didn't have to pay unless he wanted to." The payments of winnings, according to Schrier, were indirect; the proprietor would give winning players "cigars or other trade" and buy back the stuff from them with money.

Former Assistant Chief of Police William Rundle testified how he now had got his permission to put out slot machines by showing him a device without the gambling attachment and then had put out a different machine which contained the gambling feature. Pollnow's brother, Caesar, also is under indictment. He was tried previously on another count and acquitted. John Mills, employee of the Pollnows, also was acquitted because the State failed to convince a jury that a slot machine is a gambling device.

MADISON COUNTY TO SUE FOR DAMAGE TO SANITARIUM

Supervisors Unanimous in Decision for $100,000 Action Against Donk Bros. Coal Co.

Suit for $100,000 damages is to be filed in Madison County against the Donk Bros. Coal and Coke Co., alleging that "neglect" in the company's Thermal mine, near Edwardsville, caused large cracks in foundations and walls of the county tuberculosis sanitarium, built above one of the mine rooms.

The Board of Supervisors unanimously adopted a resolution instructing the State's Attorney to file the suit.

Officials of the mining company have said that the company is contemplating a counter suit against the county, alleging that the great weight of the sanitarium damaged the mine.

DIPLOMA MILL TRIAL SET

Hearing on Revocation of Dr. R. B. Horton's License April 22.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, March 23.—Dr. Ray B. Horton of Purdy, Mo., will be required to show cause why his physician's license should not be revoked at a hearing in St. Louis April 22, the State Board of Health here decided. The health board's right to hold a hearing and to revoke the license was upheld by the State Supreme Court, Feb. 15.

Horton is accused of submitting fraudulent educational credits from the Purdy High School and the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons and the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery when he took his examination for a license.

Filling Station Manager's Friend
Tells Thief $25 Taken Is All He Had.

Artie Bowles, night manager of the gasoline filling station at Lin deli boulevard and Sarah street was chatting with his friend, Samuel Johnstone of 3610 Forest Park place in the station office at 3:45 today, when a man with a revolver held them up.

The robber compelled Johnstone to the Bowles hand and foot with cord, and then tied Johnstone's hands behind his back. He took $25 from each man, but tossed $3 back to Johnstone when he pleaded that the $25 was all the money he had.

Beaten by Robbers After Slamming Safe Shut.

Robert B. Slosser, owner of a confectionery store at 7 South Ewing avenue, was badly beaten by two Negro robbers at 6:30 p. m. yesterday after he slammed his safe door shut, throwing the combination off, when they ordered him to raise his hands. They struck him with revolvers inflicting severe cuts on his face and head.

Isaac Stillman, haberdasher at 1014 Hodiamont avenue, was beaten by a Negro who entered his shop while he was absent for a few minutes yesterday. The Negro was kneeling at the safe when Stillman returned and demanded "What are you doing there?" The Negro knocked Stillman down kicked him several times and ran out.

Miss Frieda Glaser of 5137 Lotus avenue, secretary of the Neighborhood House, 1009 North Ninth street, reported that $163 in cash had been stolen from a wall safe in her office at the house between 5 p. m. Monday and yesterday morning by someone who worked the combination.

INDETERMINATE FRANCHISE

BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE
Measure Provides That Any Utility May Surrender Municipal Permit Under Which It Operates.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 23.—The indeterminate franchise bill, authorizing public utilities to surrender any municipal permit or franchise under which they now are operating and obtain an indeterminate permit or franchise from the State Public Service Commission was passed today in the House and now goes to the Senate. The vote was 103 to 2, no opposition developing on the floor of the House.

The bill provides that any utility surrendering its municipal franchise shall be deemed to have given the city in which it operates the option of purchasing the public utility at any time.

A street railway company desiring to surrender its municipal franchise and obtain an indeterminate permit from the Public Service Commission must first obtain the consent of the city in which it operates.

The bill defines public utilities, within the meaning of the act as electric, gas and artificial heat companies, water companies and interurban, suburban and street railways.

School Board Candidates to Speak.
Candidates for election to the Board of Education will address a public meeting at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Lillian and Ruskin avenues, at 8 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Elias Michaels will speak on the responsibilities of the board. No candidate will be endorsed by the church.

ADVERTISING IN MISERABLE FIX FROM INDIGESTION

Relieved by Black-Draught, Texan Now Carries It With Him. Takes It Whenever the Least Out of Sort.

Anna, Tex.—Mr. J. C. McAnally who lives near here, makes the following statement:
"If I'm not mistaken, my first recollection of Black-Draught was in 1877 and 1878. I had typhoid and after this I was in an awful bad fix; not able to work. I would eat, and eat so much, then would have indigestion. My system clogged and I would feel awful bad.
"My brother-in-law came to see me, and I told him what a miserable fix I was in, just feeling so bad, dragging around, and he told me of Black-Draught.
"I believe this was the first time I used it. It has been my medicine ever since. It is a good purgative. It gives relief. It certainly is all it is recommended to be.
"If I have smothering after meals, or a disagreeable feeling, Black-Draught relieves this. I am never without it. I don't suppose my house has been without it more than a month since I began its use.
"Black-Draught has done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I carry it in a little box in my pocket, and take a little pinch during the day, and have the least disagreeable feeling."
Sold everywhere. Price 25c.

Sale of 1500 New Spring DRESSES

Presenting All the New and Fashionable Styles, Fabrics, Details, With Every Fashionable Color and Combination

As smart a collection of early season Spring styles as every graced a sale, we believe, with an opportunity to effect substantial savings. The very latest style trends now being shown in New York and worn by well-dressed women everywhere are in this group just received. And those who buy in this event will have a Dress at comparatively little cost for Easter and long afterwards.

These Dresses invariably have becoming necklines, deft trimmings that emphasize the smart simplicity of each model. The silhouette is the important factor with such contributing details
as subordinated tucks, pleats, shirrings, cordings, jabots, novelty collars and cuffs, flouncings,
tiers.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS IN TWO COUNTY TOWNS

Mayors of Webster Groves and Maplewood Are Renominated—Voting April 5.

Primary elections were held yesterday in Webster Groves and Maplewood to select nominees for the municipal elections, April 5. The Mayor of each town was renominated, J. S. Chipman of Webster Groves receiving 1078 votes, and Eugene Burks of Maplewood, 524. Mayor Chipman, nominated on the Good Government Party ticket, will have W. F. O'Malley, former County Health Commissioner, and Herbert Yates, nominated for the Board of Commissioners, as running mates. Their opponents, nominated by the People's party, will be Fred Holekamp for Mayor and William Stocker and Edward Wilson for Commissioners.

Mayor Burks' opponent will be Charles Humphreys. John Fels, Frank Kasper, George McGregor and William Robinson were nominated for the Maplewood Board of Commissioners, two of whom will be elected on April 5.

DRIVER, WHOSE AUTO CAUSED DEATH OF WOMAN, FINED $500

Horace Ritter, Mechanic, Convicted of Manslaughter by Jury in Circuit Court at Clayton.

Horace Ritter of Overland, a mechanic employed by the Normandy Auto Co., was fined $500 by a jury in Circuit Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton yesterday for manslaughter, as the result of the death of Mrs. Clara Strock of 300 Hereford avenue, Ferguson, when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by one driven by Ritter on Florissant road, north of Normandy, Sept. 15.

It was shown at the trial that Ritter, who was driving a car of a customer of his employer, to test it, had passed ahead of several machines going north, the direction he was following, and was approaching a curve which obscured the view ahead. It had rained about a half hour previously. Mrs. Strock was in a car driven by her son, Donald D. Strock, who pulled aside when he saw Ritter's car until only the left rear wheel of the Strock car remained on the pavement. The machine Ritter drove hit the other, however.

Ritter testified he had to pull to the left towards Strock's car because one 50 feet ahead of him had stopped abruptly.

Strock suffered a fractured pelvis, lacerations and abrasions, and his wife, two other women relatives and a woman friend, accompanying him, were hurt, but all recovered.

SENATE COMMITTEE WITHHOLDS APPROVAL OF PRISON BOARD

Votes to Report Without Recommendation; Confirmation to Be Fought in Executive Session.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 23.

—The Senate Committee on Penal Institutions yesterday afternoon voted to report to the Senate without recommendation as to confirmation of the names of the five members of the State Penal Board. Consideration of these appointments last Friday caused a bolt in the Democratic Senate caucus, seven Senators walking out and refusing to be bound by caucus action, which was in opposition to confirmation.

Senator Gordon of Liberty, one of the bolters, is chairman of the committee, and two of the remaining four Democrats on the committee, Brownlee of Brookfield and Searcy of Eminence, were among the seven.

The names will go before the executive session of the Senate probably tomorrow. There have been reports that some of the seven are weakening in their opposition to the caucus and that the vote in executive session will be close.

FINDS WAY TO AVOID MUSCLE-LAMENESS

Athlete has simple method of keeping in perfect form

Athletes and trainers know how painful and disabling muscle-lameness can be. And they, more than almost anyone else, can tell you the best way to overcome it.

"In my training work as an athlete," writes Frank B. Conover, of 175 South St., Jersey City, N. J., "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by rigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck."

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." Sore muscles lumber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

COMMUNITY MEETING HELD IN CARONDELET

More Than 500 Persons Hear Pleas for Greater Co-operation in Public Measures.

The Carondelet district ranks sixteenth in delinquency and health and fifteenth in social well being among the 26 districts of St. Louis.

This was announced by speakers who discussed the assets and liabilities of the district at a community mass meeting held last night at the gymnasium of the Carondelet Y. M. C. A. It was the third of a series of meetings held under the auspices of the St. Louis Community Council, Tower Grove and the Fairgrounds district previously having held similar meetings.

More than 500 persons crowded the building and 200 were turned away. There were 47 organizations, schools and churches participating in the meeting.

Carondelet history was reviewed by Oliver T. Remmers, Elwood Street, director of the Community Council, presented stereopticon views of old and new Carondelet and told of its housing and health. E. R. Kinsey, president of the Board of Public Service, made a plea for community consciousness in all St. Louis districts and city-wide co-operation in public measures. Charles R. Watkins, St. Louis Provident Association, spoke on family rehabilitation.

Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A. Symphony band and gymnasium class, and the Carondelet Women's Club, and Y. W. C. A. gave demonstrations of their work. Frank L. Eversall presided.

Sedalia Defeats Bonds for Schools.
By the Associated Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., March 23.—A proposed bond issue of $400,000 for the erection of a Junior High School and for the rebuilding of two other schools was defeated by a vote of 2429 to 2178.

MASS MEETING TO AID BELT HIGHWAY CALLED

Property Owners Will Be Asked to Sell Land Along Route Reasonably.

A mass meeting arranged by the St. Louis County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Maryland Heights school tonight to arouse public sentiment for hastening construction of the proposed belt highway, from Patton-ville, on the St. Charles road, to Mehlville, on the Lemay Ferry road, by way of the Denny road
and of new extensions of that thoroughfare at each end.

A similar meeting will be held in the Kirkwood City Hall tomorrow night and addressed by E. J.
Russell, chairman of the Regional Planning Federation. Later, a gathering may be called at Mehlville or Sappington.

The road is to be built with a $906,673 refund due the county
from the State Highway Commission for payments on portions of State highways for which the county had advanced money. Of this refund, $499,029 is available
this year, about $100,000 next year and the remainder probably in 1929 and 1930. The County Court, or administrative body, exercised its authority under the law
to select the route for the highway, the chief condition being that it had to connect the four State highways, which traverse St.
Charles, Lemay Ferry, Manchester
and Gravois roads.

Right-of-Way 100 Feet.
A 100-foot right-of-way was decided on by the county, utilizing Denny road for more than half of the 21-mile distance. Between Sap-pington, the southern end of Denny road, and Mehlville, most of the five miles of new right-of-way has been obtained but there has been a dispute over the stretch of about five miles, between the northern end of Denny road, at Olive Street road, and Pattonville. To settle that dispute is the object of the mass meetings.

At first the question was location
of the northern part of the route.
A former personnel of the County Court picked a somewhat circuitous course passing through the small industrial settlement of Maryland Heights and utilizing Fee Fee
and Dorsett roads for the greatest part of the five miles. These roads, however, lack the desired 100-foot width and this route also involves some altogether new location. Now, the present County Court members have found, some of the land owners are asking for prices considerably higher than the court regards
as fair.

Prices of $1500 and more an acre, and as high as $5000, have been asked for by some owners.
The court feels about $500 per acre
on the average would be fair.

A free right-of-way between Olive street and St. Charles roads, which would make the belt highway nearly two miles longer, by following a U-shaped path to the west of Maryland Heights, has been offered to the County Court, the County Chamber of Commerce announced, by a group of interested property owners, headed by B. Cordell Stevens and John Miers. Edward Goeke, a real estate dealer,
the chamber also announced, is trying to assemble another right-of-way to extend Denny road almost straight north Pattonville,
running to the east of Maryland
Heights. This is about the route
State engineers suggested. Goeke says he has gained consent of all except two property owners, who are out of the State and who he is trying to reach.

Connecting Road Alternative.
Another alternative, not yet under official consideration, is to buy a short connection between Denny road and Ashby road, still farther east.

When the County Chamber of Commerce asked the County Court
recently to start work on the belt highway, the court replied it would do so as soon as assured of the complete right-of-way. County Engineer Jablowsky has data prepared to call for bids. The court wants to have the two extensions
of Denny road built before widening and repaving that thoroughfare. County Chamber officials say it is the whole highway, and not the route, they are interested in. They hope the mass meetings will result in causing property owners to sell the property along the route at fair prices.

It is intended to make the grade
for the entire highway 54 feet wide and to lay an 18-foot concrete pavement on one side of it, leaving room for another 18-foot section later, when it is demanded by traffic. The county hopes eventually to extend this boulevard to the Mississippi River at both ends, but State funds will not be available for this and the county is badly embarrassed financially.

Slayer's Execution Stayed Again.
By the Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Tex., March 23.—
George J. Hassell of Farrell, Tex., confessed slayer of 13 persons,
sentenced to die Friday was granted
a second 30-day stay of execution by Gov. Moody today. Has-sell's execution, first postponed
from Feb. 25 by a 30-day remedial, now is set for April 25 unless higher court action results in a reversal. In giving reasons for the second act of clemency, which was recommended yesterday by the Board of Pardons, Moody said
the death warrant was illegally executed.

O. P. CANDIDATES FAVOR LEGISLATION ON RAPID TRANSIT

Nominees for Aldermen Also Pledge Selves Against Monopolistic Use of Municipal Bridge.

WOULD HELP ABATE THE SMOKE EVIL

Platform Points With Satisfaction to Accomplishments of the Board in Last Four Years.

The 15 Republican nominees for the Board of Aldermen, subject to the election of April 5, yesterday adopted a platform in which,
among other things, they pledged themselves "not to vote for any measure which will give to any railroad a monopolistic use of the Municipal Bridge." They declared
they would not vote to permit railroad use of the bridge unless the terms were satisfactory to the public and "eminently fair" to the city.

They promised to enact legislation for rapid transit and to help abate the smoke evil. Since 13 of the 15 candidates are incumbents
seeking re-election to the board of 25 members, the platform refers to the established legislative record of the candidates in general terms.

"We point with satisfaction to the legislative accomplishments of the Board of Aldermen during the last four years and promise to continue enacting legislation which will be beneficial to the people of St. Louis. During the last four years we passed legislative measures relating to safety, zoning, traffic, street improvements, readjustment of licenses, ordinances relating to the expenditures of bond issues money and welfare matters, all of which directly benefited the public."

Would Aid in Smoke Abatement.
"We are in favor of legislation which will help St. Louis to eliminate smoke, and will do everything in our power to help bring about that result."

"We are in strict accordance with the principles laid down in the zoning ordinance and promise
to make only the necessary changes therein, which may from time to time become necessary, in order to adjust certain inequalities which may arise."

"We are in favor of rapid transit for St. Louis and promise to enact legislation in aid thereof in accordance with the best interests of the people."

Stand on Bridge Trade.
"In regard to the bridge exchange question, we are not unmindful of the fact that the people of this city, at several bond issue elections, voted to build this bridge and that it should be free. We pledge ourselves not to vote for any
railroad a monopolistic use of the Municipal Bridge and we will not vote for any bill which permits the railroads to use the bridge unex-
cept on terms which are absolutely satisfactory to the public and unless it is eminently fair to the city in all respects."

"We pledge ourselves to the same conscientious efforts in passing legislation for the benefit of the public in the future as we have shown in the past. It shall be our aim at all times, on all questions coming before us, to vote for such propositions which are for the best interests of all the people."

"We pledge ourselves to adopt safety measures in an effort to cut down the number of deaths caused by automobiles, and we will endeavor to regulate traffic so that congestion at busy points will be eliminated as far as practical."

"We pledge ourselves to pass legislation which will result in street improvements, and we also pledge that we will pass legislation which will result in a judicious and economical expenditure of the bond issue money, which has been our policy in the past."

Proud of Welfare Record.
"We have approved many welfare measures, administering to the needs of the sick, the homeless,

The 15 Republican nominees for the Board of Aldermen, subject to the election of April 5, yesterday adopted a platform in which, among other things, they pledged themselves "not to vote for any measure which will give to any individual a monopolistic use of the Municipal Bridge." Stand on Bridge Trade.
In regard to the bridge exchange question, we are not unmindful of the fact that the people of this city, at several bond issue elections, voted to build this bridge and that the intent of the people was that it should be free. We pledge ourselves not to vote for any measure which will give to any individual a monopolistic use of the Municipal Bridge and we will not vote for any bill which permits the railroad to use the bridge unless the terms are absolutely satisfactory to the public and unless it be eminently fair to the city in all respects."

"We pledge to the citizens of St. Louis to continue our earnest efforts to assist in building up St. Louis and to do everything in our power to insure the progress of our community in civic and industrial activities, so that our city may continue to grow in a healthy and vigorous manner."

The platform is signed by President Neun of the board and Aldermen Otto, Lange, Hirth, Meisinger, Neumann, Wetzel, Bergmann, Schwartz, Kralemann, Krueger, Eilers and Waldman, all seeking re-election, and by William Hoeft, who defeated Alderman Randall for the Second Ward nomination, and A. M. Brinkman, nominated for a vacancy in the Fourteenth Ward.

FUNERAL OF PETER ANDERSON TO BE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Former State Senator Had Been St. Louis Republican Leader for Several Years.

The funeral of former State Senator Peter Anderson, a leader in St. Louis Republican politics for many years, who died yesterday at his home, 2044A Adelaide avenue, of a complication of diseases, will be Saturday afternoon from an undertaker's chapel at 2707 North Grand boulevard, with burial in Valhalla Cemetery. It is expected the State Senate, in which he served for 16 years, will send a delegation to the funeral.

Mr. Anderson, who was 63 years old, retired last fall because of ill health, at the expiration of his fourth term as Senator. Previously he had been Inspector of Weights and Measures in St. Louis, and for a long time was Republican committeeman for the First Ward, being the only member of the committee to support Mayor Miller in his primary candidacy. He was associated with his son, Peter Jr., in the Anderson Plastering Co., Arcade Building.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances Anderson; three sons, Peter, William and Howard, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Aubuchon, Mrs. J. L. Smythe and Mrs. George C. Foster, all of St. Louis.

Dies of Injuries in Fall.
Alexander McManus, 80 years old, died at City Hospital at 5:40 a. m. today of a fractured thigh and other injuries suffered on Feb. 3 in a fall at the City Infirmary. An inquest will be held today.

SCHOOLS SYMPHONY TONIGHT

Concert Will Be Given at Soldan High Auditorium.
The Schools Symphony Community Festival concert will be played tonight under the auspices of the Blewett Junior High School at Soldan High School auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p. m. Besides orchestral numbers by Elgar, Wagner, Schubert, German, Handel and Berlioz, the Blewett Mixed chorus will sing Johann Strauss' "Blue Danube."

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions, it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

$61,000 VERDICT AGAINST UNION FOR STRIKE DAMAGE

Three Boston Milk Companies Awarded Judgment as Result of Strike of Drivers.

FIRMS TO PRESS FOR ITS PAYMENT

Workers to Make Strong Fight Against "Danbury Hatters" Decision Standing in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, March 23.—Counsel for Local No. 880, Milk Drivers and Creamery Workers' Union, ordered yesterday to pay to three employing milk companies $61,971.44 as damages arising out of a strike last summer, say a strong fight will be made against allowing a "danbury hatters" decision to stand in this state.

Attorneys for Alden Brothers, Childs Brothers and W. E. Noble and Sons Co. announced their decision to press for reimbursement from the union and its members. Judge Morton of the State Superior Court upheld the finding of a master that the strikers had damaged the companies by following teams and inducing customers by threats and solicitation not to trade with the petitioners, and by expenditures caused by the strike. He refused, however, to sustain damage costs for the hire of police and detectives to guard the companies' property and personnel. The case was likened to the famous Danbury Hatters' litigation, in which the United States Supreme Court sustained the contention of E. B. Lowell's Co. that the hat makers' union had damaged his business through boycott. Many members of the union lost their homes and property to satisfy the $272,000 award.

USION OF PARENTS' BLOOD USED TO PREVENT MEASLES

German's Theory Is That Every Adult Has Had Disease and Therefore Is Immune

WASHINGTON, March 23.—In a few drops of parental blood into a child will prove an effective preventive against measles, in the theory advanced by Dr. Adolph Degkwitz, director of the state for children's diseases at the University of Greifswald, Germany.

Prof. Degkwitz has been working on a measles serum at the hygienic laboratory of the United States Public Health Service, recognizing that, while such dread epidemic diseases as typhoid, malaria, diphtheria and dysentery no longer are a serious menace, the less feared germs of measles, whooping cough and influenza continue to baffle science.

Explaining his blood inoculation theory, Prof. Degkwitz asserts: "It is well known that the blood of a former victim is proof against subsequent infection, and, as it is commonly assumed that every person once was afflicted with measles, his blood carries the germ which insures immunity against a second attack. Its introduction into the child has, even in Europe, an effective protection against an initial case of measles."

The prefacing of the changes in the character of the disease, but they give five concerning the reservation of the sacrament, one of them providing conveyance of the sacrament to the sick shall be subject to the bishop's direction.

Three Boston Milk Com-

TERMS TO PRESS FOR ITS PAYMENT

Workers to Make Strong Fight Against "Danbury Hatters" Decision Standing in Massachusetts.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, March 23.—Counsel for Local No. 380, Milk Drivers and Creamery Workers' Union, ordered yesterday to pay to three employing milk companies $61,971.44 as damages arising out of a strike last winter, say a strong fight will be made against allowing a "danbury hatters" decision to stand in this case.

Attorneys for Alden Brothers,
Milk Drivers and W. E. Noble

cision to press for reimbursement
from the union and its members.
Judge Morton of the State Superior Court upheld the finding of damages that the strikers had caused the companies by following a plan of inducing customers
to buy milk from other sources,
and threatened to sue for the damages caused by the strike.
The case was likened to the famous Danbury Hatters' litigation,
in which the United States Supreme Court sustained the contention of the hatters that the hat manufacturers had damaged his business through boycott. Many members of the union lost their homes and property to satisfy the $27,000 award.

The three milk companies were awarded last June into the New England Creamery Products Co.
Alden Brothers formerly had maintained a union shop, but the other two were open and so continued.
Workers for the Noble company
went against joining the union,
and the Alden concern declared open shop when informed that strike was imminent.

The Political Undertow Dawes Sitting Pretty If Coolidge Can't Run

If Lowden Kills President's Chances in 1928, Latter Most Probably Will Retaliate by Supporting His Second in Command—Plenty of Hopefuls in Vice-Presidential Phalanx.

By CHARLES MICHELSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the New York World and Post-Dispatch.
Copyright, 1927, by the Press and Publishing Company, Inc. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—It is not only the embittered farmers who are hoping to see some other than Calvin Coolidge at the top of the Republican ticket next year.
There is the vice presidential phalanx, already large and constantly growing. Vice President Dawes really occupies the best position of the lot, for he has two shots at the prize. If former Gov.
Lowden develops enough strength to make it uncomfortable for the President to appear as a candidate
before the 1928 convention, Dawes has a chance to slip by as a compromise. According to political logic, if Lowden spoils it for Coolidge, Coolidge may be depended upon to see to it that Lowden does not profit. That is where Dawes comes in.

As Senator Edwards of New Jersey put it the other day, the Vice President is the most popular man in the Senate, and even a Democrat may occasionally speak
the truth about Republican politics. Dawes, banker and business man, could be swallowed by the industrial East without causing cramps, and he has hinted at partially for the McNary-Haugen bill sufficiently to make him an acceptable substitute for Lowden in the agricultural West.

Dawes Wins Either Way.
Should the insurrection against Coolidge's third term prove abortive, Dawes can stay where he is, not only as a correct geographical balance, but on the theory that his popularity with the farm subsidy hunters will brace up the ticket
in Iowa and the south, where it is going to need buttressing.

Should the President drop out and either Lowden or Dawes or Speaker Longworth be the standard-bearer, it would open up the Vice Presidential field amazingly for all three of them are Middle-Westerners, which means that the lesser dignity of second position must go either to the Atlantic or the Pacific Coast.

New Hampshire and Charles Mc-Nary of Oregon. Moses' ambitions are not so openly broadcast as McNary's but are taken more seriously by the makers of political farm charts. It may not seem logical that so prominent a member of the Senate should be gunning for the cloistered retirement of the Vice Presidency, which went begging in 1924, but the place has become more attractive to speculators since the progress of Coolidge, backed by the previous campaign of Roosevelt.

Lowden would be in his sixty-ninth year when he took office if he were elected next year, 73 when he completed his first term. Moses is a mere child of 57. The more progressive the nominee for President, the greater advantage in having a conservative to take the curse off in the sections where progressivism is taboo. Moses is a reactionary as they come politically.

Only Road for Moses.
Just as there was only one route
by which Coolidge could have attained to the White House, there is no other open for a man from New Hampshire. In this there may be an answer to the riddle of Moses' strenuous and successful

seconding of the filibuster of David A. Reed of Pennsylvania. Moses does not care a last year's pine cone for Senator-elect William S.
Vare, in whose behalf the filibuster was fought. He probably cares less for the item of avoiding embarrassment for the Coolidge administration, which did not want the Borah committee functioning while it worked out its theme of Nicaragua and Mexico, and was equally content when the Norris resolution about the trading in Southern Federal jobs and the Walsh resolution to investigate the big business mergers were strangled
in the same log jam.

Like the rest of the Old Guard,
Moses is annoyed by the Coolidge President. There has never been a cordiality between them, though it is part of the administration routine to offer Moses every big ambassadorship that becomes vacant.
The Senator not being a millionaire, there is no danger of such an appointment being accepted.

What has all this to do with Moses' procedure when David Reed fought? Just this: "Pennsylvania has more votes in the national convention than any other State except
New York, and the Pennsylvania delegation goes where Vare listeth." McNary Sitting Pretty.
McNary is a shrewd Western lawyer who, after the habit of his class, has gotten into corporations and made a fortune in political interests. He has been near enough to the verge of insurrection often enough to establish a kinship with the indirect route to the Norris-La Piette wing of the Senate. An Or-gon man has no more chance for an open shot at the big political prize, than has one from New Hampshire, but McNary discovered
the indirect route before anybody else, and being only 54 he can afford to linger along at the vic-presidential way station for four years or even eight or any fraction thereof.

Jim Watson of Indiana is no longer mentioned among the vice presidential potentialities, perhaps because he knows that if Coolidge is renominated he has no chance and if a Middle Westerner gets it
they would have to go to one coast
or the other for the second man.
This may be the reason for Watson's being credited with ambition
to take the direct route to the White House instead of the long dim path.

Now, if things should so come about that the present Vice President struck Senator Wadsworth of New York or if Secretary of Commerce Hoover should inherit, we might look for a recrudescence of the Watson instinct in the tail of the ticket.

Lame Ducks Plan Comeback.
Talking of Wadsworth brings to mind the fact that all the lame ducks shot out of the Senate by the election last year are figuring on riding back on Coolidge's coat-tails.
In Wadsworth's list are Gen. Mills, who is Assistant Secretaryship of the Treasury is a comfortable place to wait a couple of years. It was the understanding that his price
for taking a licking from Gov.
Smith in the New York Government show last November was the promise that he should be nominated for the Senatorship now held by Copeland, and both Mills and Wadsworth cannot run.

SENATORS OPPOSE TERMINATION OF MEXICAN PACT

Liberals Point Out Way Is Now Open to Aid Rebels
by Lifting Arms Embargo.

EXPLANATION IS CONSIDERED THIN

Absence of Commercial Treaty Given as Cause, but This Condition Has Prevailed 40 Years.

By CHARLES G. ROSS.
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—
Strong denunciation of the State Department's decision, announced yesterday, to end the year-old anti-smuggling treaty with Mexico, came today from Senators who are zealous of avoiding a situation that might be seized upon as an excuse for armed intervention by the United States
south of the Rio Grande.
The State Department's action
was generally interpreted as both American and in foreign diplomatic circles as paving the way for a lifting of the embargo on the shipment of arms into Mexico.

Under the smuggling treaty,
which was promulgated on March 28 last, to run for a year, and to continue automatically thereafter unless denounced by either of the parties, each country obligated itself to notify the other of any shipments of prohibited commodities.

Manifestly a lifting of the arms embargo would not be effective with the smuggling treaty in operation, since the United States would be required by it to notify Mexico of the smuggling treaty and the Mexican authorities of the shipment of arms.

While declining to permit himself to be directly quoted, Senator Borah, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, implied that in his opinion the denunciation of the smuggling treaty would be regarded by the Mexican people as an unfriendly act.

Norris Outspoken.
Senator Norris of Nebraska,
chairman of the Judiciary Committee, was more outspoken.

"This," said Norris bitterly, "is simply an invitation to revolution."
The State Department gives no reason for terminating the treaty. It means that we are going to permit
the shipping of arms and ammunition into Mexico without restriction. It is a notice to all who want to overthrow the Mexican Government that the United States will put nothing in their way. Dobony, Sinclair and other oil men can finance a revolution from the United States. The bars are down for the revolutionists to take it they can to overthrow a stable government.

"One of the principal objects of the convention was to prohibit the shipment of arms to Mexico. All the revolutionists will take it as a notice that the United States is friendly to any revolution against the Calles government."

Norris said he could not understand the last paragraph of the State Department's announcement of yesterday, which put the abrogation of the treaty on the ground that the United States has no commercial treaty with Mexico.

This explanation generally is regarded as flimsy, as the United States had no commercial treaty with Mexico when the smuggling pact was negotiated a year ago
and had had none for 40 years.

Norris' statement is not wholly accurate, since the way will not be opened for the shipment of liquor across the border from Mexico. Mexico's policy is not a phosphoric record which only reproduces a certain definite melody.

House Debates Bill for More Pay.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 23.—
Financial relief for members of the House, who have been serving session, was secured by the House at 11 a day since March 18, was proposed in a resolution introduced today authorizing each member to appoint a special clerk at $5 a day, to be paid from March 18 to the close of the session. Representative George W.
Wackman of St. Louis introduced the resolution as a joke, but it was debated for a half hour. An amendment was adopted authorizing each member to serve as his own special clerk. The resolution was voted down with 96 yeas and one nay. The lone member voting for the resolution was Representative

AMERICAN FLYERS KILLING INNOCENT, NICARAGUANS SAY

State Department Asked to Revoke Citizenship of Aviators Helping Diaz.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—A protest against activities of two American aviators, "Billy" Brooks and Lee Mason, serving with the Conservator forces in Nicaragua,
and a request that they be deprived of their American citizenship were presented to the State Department yesterday by Dr. T. S. Vaca, agent here for the Liberal Nicaraguan faction opposed to President Diaz.

A formal note from Foreign Minister Espinosa of the Liberal Government, addressed to the State Department, said Juan B. Sacasa, Liberal leader, had received information that in the recent fighting
at Chinandega, Brooks and Mason
had been instrumental in the destruction of the city, causing heavy losses of national and private property, leaving homeless more than 50 families and killing many non-combatants.

The Liberal Government "declines responsibility regarding the future of the aviators, Brooks and Mason,"
should they fall into the hands of the Liberal forces.

STRESEMANN DECLARES HE IS "NO PHONOGRAPH RECORD"

Defends His Departure From Instructions in League Agreement on Saar Valley.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 23.—Foreign Minister Stresemann is no mere phonograph record, he excitedly assured the Reichstag this afternoon and was rewarded with a bilious approving applause. He was answering criticisms in debate on the work of the German delegation at the recent meeting of the Council of the League of Nations at Geneva,
where a compromise agreement
was reached regarding the drawal of all German troops from the Saar Valley. He declared it was in the very nature of the work of the League that compromises must be made on all sides and delegations could not be bound entirely by instruction.

"If you take from the people representing your country their ability they have—namely, their ability to feel their way into new situations.
For as the rest, the representative of a country naturally is not a phonograph record which only re-
produces a certain definite mel-
ody."

U. S. Has Confidence of China More Than Any Other Nation, Declares Theodore E. Burton

Ohio Congressman Says It Is Mistake to Regard Cantonese as Exponents of Democratic Government.

"The United States has the confidence of the Chinese people more than any other country," Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Ohio said in his luncheon address on "Facts About China," before the Advertising Club at Hotel Statler today.

"We have taken the lead in the movement for China's protection and advancement," he said. "At the present time, criticism of our conduct should be avoided, protection of our citizens in China should be insisted on, and we should endeavor to give China her place in the sun."

Burton came here to speak before the Foreign Policy Association
at its dinner at Hotel Chase
tonight on the international debt question. He will take the anti-cancellation side of a discussion with Sir George Paish, eminent British financial adviser, who advocates cancellation of war debts.

Chinese Not Compromisers.
Burton, who visited China in 1920, spoke of leading personalities of that country, particularly Foreign Minister Chen; Collector Soong of the Cantonese Government's revenue, known as the Alexander Hamilton of China; and Chang Kai-shek, Cantonese General.

"The Chinese are not a compromising people," he said, "and in that fact lies one great difficulty.
Sun Yat-sen said to me that the South and North would be united only if the North conceded all demands—that was war was preferable to any concession on the part of the South. I think that attitude is typical."

"It is a mistake to think that the present Cantonese movement is in behalf of popular government
as we understand it. The Cantonese idea is that parliamentary government is a proved failure. They prefer a system of government by commissaires, possibly 15 in number drawn from all classes of the popular. The Russian plan essentially is the same."

"There is a very large infusion of bolshevism in the Chinese situation. Russia, in its recent movements in China, has shown just as imperialistic a disposition as was shown in the case of the day. Russia has attained influence in China
by being the first to give up extraterritoriality, and by remitting its share of the Boxer indemnity, though not until long after the United States did so."

Quaint Farewell to Duke of York.
By the Associated Press.
WELLINGTON, New Zealand,
March 23.—A quaint farewell message was sent by the Duke and Duchess of York, who sailed yesterday for Australia
after visiting New Zealand. The message reads: "Farewell to you,
the snow white crane which flies
but once in a lifetime, and to you inestimable high-born lady, good luck."

to deal with both matters, and the State Department submitted a proposal for raising the Chinese tariff duties and for granting complete autonomy at a future period, 1925 being the time suggested. The commission met at Peking, but the break-up of China caused the Chinese delegates to withdraw, and the efforts begun in China's interest
had to be suspended.

Burton spoke of the inadequate tariff provided for China under old treaties, and of efforts to revise it,
to which Great Britain and Japan
have offered obstacles.

As to the abolition of extra-territorial consular courts in China he said the opinion of America and more recently of Europe, was favorable to such a change, but that it was not possible to trust some of the Chinese courts to treat foreigners justly. Some of the Chinese courts are notoriously corrupt, he said, and some are dominated by military chieftains. One Judge was executed by a military leader, he said, for a righteous attempt to maintain justice.

A great present difficulty, Burton said, is the lack of a government with which to deal. With the question of ultimate super-sedeance still unsettled, the Peking Government resents and repudiates any foreign dealings with the Cantonese regime, and the Cantonese refuse to be bound by any agreements of the Northern Government.

"China has had an excellent supreme court," he said, "but the legislative branches of both the North and South Chinese Governments have faded out. The laws and regulations are executive mandates, like the decrees of Roman Emperors."

Paish Explains Stand on Debts.
Sir George Paish, in talking to reporters today of the international debt situation, which he is to discuss tonight, said that, as to discuss tonight, it is not a question of willingness to pay, but of the possibility of payment. In view of the American tariff.

"If we are to pay," he said, "you must be willing to accept payment.
But when we try to pay you put your tariff up against our goods,
in which, obviously, the payment must be made."

"You seem to fear that if you import manufactured goods, you will lessen your own business.
That is a bogey for trade creates trade. If you will not receive our goods, we will reduce its purchases from you."

Sir George's view is that there is grave danger of a general breakdown in world credit, which will cause financial and economic distress to all nations, and from which the United States will suffer no less than other countries. He advocates debt cancellation as a means of averting this danger.

BASES DEMAND ON LOCARNO PACT

French Limitation Plan Provides for Naval Allotments on Basis of Total Tonnage.

By ALBIN E. JOHNSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

GENEVA, March 23.—The German Government has told the Disarmament Commission for the preparatory conference that Germany would bring her military establishment to a par with all other nations of Europe before beginning to reduce.

Count Von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States
during the early part of the World War, yesterday presented the German theses of disarmament plans that it would like to submit to the coming disarmament conference as a tentative program.

He said that only effective and practical measures which placed the nations of Europe upon equal footing would be acceptable to Berlin as fulfillment of promises made at Versailles and Locarno that disarmament of the Central Powers would be the first step toward general disarmament.

"Germany will not accept a fictitious solution," Von Bernstorff declared. He pledged his country's co-operation to the fullest extent, provided the League was sincere and that the advances now being made proved the League's power of carrying out its program
for future peace.

Otherwise, he said, Germany
must insist, as has Italy, on having a military position on a par with any power in Europe.

France Submits Plan for Arm- ament Limitation

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, March 23.—The French draft of a general treaty
for the limitation of armaments,
made public last night, shows a continuation of the French insistence on a system of total naval tonnage in any allotments of naval strength, instead of the splitting up of tonnage by categories of warships, as advocated by the United States and Great Britain.

The French draft makes it clear that each Power should be free to distribute its total tonnage in the type of warship best suited to its national interest.

A subsequent naval clause, which is believed to be a friendly allusion
to the projected three-Power conference, stipulates that the treaty
does not nullify conventions previously signed by separate nations.

Unlike the British draft offered to the Preparatory Commission,
the French draft practically excludes reservist strength from army reduction by limiting reductions to troops or forces in service.
The text meets the British on the aviation problem by not insisting on the limitation of civil aircraft unless it endangers the security of other states.

After requiring each country to announce in advance its annual armament expenditure, the document proposes a permanent Disarmament Commission at the League of Nations, composed of states which are members of the Council, with the addition of the United States and Russia, to survey the execution of the treaty.

CHILE BARS PURELY CATHOLIC INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS

Opens Doors to All Creeds and Refuses to Make the Course Compulsory.

By the Associated Press.
SANTIAGO, Chile, March 23.— Abolition of Catholic religious instruction in the public schools brought an energetic protest from Mar. Cresentino Errazuriz, Archbishop of Santiago, in a pastoral letter published today.

Minister of Instruction Vergara,
in a statement replied that abolition of Catholic religious instruction in the schools was merely to assure equal rights for all religions,
as well as to free the Government from connection with the church. He announced the Government would permit religious instruction in the schools, but would not make it compulsory and instructors would receive no pay from the State. This instruction would have to be given outside the regular school hours.
All religions would have an equal opportunity to furnish instruction.

Increased Taxi Fares.

ANSWERING Oscar Leonard's letter of March 18: Until recently I was connected with a taxi company for a number of years and can readily give the principal reason for the recent increase in taxi fares in St. Louis. It has been the custom of all companies to put the blame for increase in operating expenses on the price of gas, oil, tires, and the drivers' wages. This is not true, even though these items have increased, but not enough to warrant an increase in rates. All cab companies pay the large hotels from $50 to $250 per month for the privilege of soliciting cab fares from their hotels, not counting what they may pay or give, donate, or force onto the doorman or employee who is in the position to recommend their cabs. Small hotels, institutions, clubs, hospitals, cafes, etc., receive a flat rate of 7c per order for a cab. Competition is so great, one company overbids another for these orders and privileges and naturally they have to get extra revenue; therefore the increase in rates and the blame on operating expenses.

JOHN J. MURPHY.

Another Daylight Saving Advocate.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
It seems that the thousands who have reacted favorably toward daylight saving are reticent about manifesting their opinions in the open columns of the press, while those who will be more or less discomfited by the change are loath to make themselves heard. Both of which courses of conduct are perfectly natural.

Persons in the latter class, for example, who must arise at 4:30 a. m., are making the most of every hour, real and imaginary, in the proposal, notwithstanding the fact that only a small percentage of all workers begin work before 7:30 or 8 o'clock in the morning.

None will deny that the plan has drawbacks, but the considerable mind will not fail to recognize the true merits embodied therein. An opportunity is offered for everyone, especially those who work indoors, who comprise a majority of the workers, to get outside after work with enough daylight hours left to make it really worth while to do so.

R. J. H.

Municipal Support for the Drama.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
MISS JULIA MARLOWE'S suggestion for municipal encouragement for the drama was born with the success of the Municipal Opera in St. Louis. It should be encouraged. Municipal motion picture production units in the key cities of the United States with guaranteed showings at a nominal cost will follow suit. This is the only safe, sane, sure way to break the backbone of monopolistic control. It will revive interest in these things, encourage art, give employment and meet with instantaneous public approval.

OBSERVER.

The Camp Jackson Memorial.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I THINK that the people responsible for the campaign to raise $50,000 for a monument to be placed on Camp Jackson Plaza, at Grand between Pine and Lawton, are doing a wonderful thing for the city. It seems a pity that every time Saint Louis is given a monument, it is buried away in some secluded spot of Forest Park. Why not put them in the heart of our city, along the principal thoroughfares where thousands will see them? Think what beautiful statues or monuments would do to the Washington-Grand cut-off, or Locust-Lindell cutoff if placed there!

A ST. LOUIS BOOSTER

"Sincere Criticism."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
YOUR editorial, "People vs. the Criminal," is heaving to the line of honest endeavor. If our dailies carried such sincere criticism, our courts would not be the last resort of criminals. The trial judge in the Sinclair case is to be commended for taking from instead encouraging technicalities in dealing with the jury.

C. G. BENNETT.

For Equal Law Enforcement.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
ON March 20 the police raided a quiet lotto party on Twentieth street. The prizes were only a few useful kitchen utensils. In many of the hotels of the city, at least in those west of Grand boulevard, there have been bridge parties. In every one of these the total of the prizes far exceeded the value of the lotto party. The "guardians of the people" took from those individuals in the East End. Perhaps our gallant police did not know of these. Kindly call them to the attention of the Chief and his Gambling Squad.

In law enforcement may there be one standard for all.
GEORGE G. BARNETTE.

THE QUESTION OF BRIDGE CHARGES.

The resolution introduced in the Board of Aldermen by Glendy B. Arnold as counsel for the Citizens Committee on the exchange of bridges, referring the question of the basis of charges for the use of the municipal bridge to the Secretary of War offers a solution of the most difficult problem connected with the transaction.

The point around which is centered the main opposition is that of the charges that shall be fixed for the use of the bridge by independent railroads, particularly independent switching terminal lines which may want to use the bridge without using any of the facilities of the Terminal Railroad Association. The Manufacturers Railway and the Alton & Southern Railway contend that the clauses in the ordinance with regard to charges for the use of the bridge were not sufficiently clear and that there was danger that an unjustified tariff would be placed upon the bridge service, thus creating a sort of monopoly with reference to their interests. We believe that this fear is unfounded under the amended ordinance and the interpretation placed upon the ordinance by President Miller of the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association. The Supreme Court mandate clearly forbids any discrimination and opens the bridges and every terminal facility to the use of any and every railroad. Mr. Miller said that the cost of using the bridge and of each and every terminal facility would be prorated among all the railroads using it, in accord with the kind and amount of service.

Assuming that this will be done, the question has arisen as to the cost which is to be prorated. How will that be computed? What will be the basis of it? That is the question to be submitted to the Secretary of War for his determination. Mr. Arnold pointed out that under sections 3 and 4 of the general bridge act of Congress of March 3, 1906, which controls the regulation of the municipal bridge, the Secretary of War is given authority to determine all matters at issue between all parties concerned in the use of the bridge. His authority extends to determining what the compensation shall be and settling all grievances with reference to charges and service.

Whether the question is referred to the Secretary of War or not, the authority to determine these questions rests with him. He will have to pass upon charges and regulations. The object of the resolution is to have him determine the basis of charges before the ordinance is adopted or passed upon by the Board of Aldermen, so that there will be clear understanding of the terms upon which the bridge may be used by all railroads. The question then will not depend upon any construction of the clause of the ordinance relating to charges, but the basis of charge will be determined in advance.

This point of the basis of charges was the main point for which the Post-Dispatch opposed the original ordinance. We had no fear of a general monopoly which would exclude any railroad from the use of the bridge or any and all terminal facilities. Both bridge and facilities are open to all railroads on terms of exact equality with the proprietary lines in the terminal. The only doubtful question which the two independent terminal lines feared was the question of the basis of charges which might be levied for the use of the bridge alone or for such facilities as were necessary to its use.

In the view of the Post-Dispatch, the whole question of the exchange of bridges is resolved into the questions, Is the exchange good business for the city? Would it result in better bridge and terminal facilities? Would it enable the railroads which enter St. Louis, all of which use the terminal bridges and facilities, to give St. Louis better transportation and terminal service? Would all railroads in and out of the Terminal Association be offered fair terms for the use of the municipal bridge?

Among the advantages to accrue to the city are the immediate opening of the vehicle deck of the Eads Bridge free of tolls, providing another great free highway between the east and west shores of the river and the possession of the railway deck of the Eads Bridge and the tunnel, which experts say is necessary for the construction of subways. All of these things must be taken into consideration.

Reference of the question of the basis of charges, however, to the Secretary of War, if he consents to act, will settle the chief bone of contention, namely, what will be the cost of the use of the bridge by any railroad and upon what basis will that cost be computed. We believe it would be wise to refer this question to the Secretary of War, who happens to be a St. Louisan, the Hon. Dwight F. Davis, whose good judgment and fairness are universally recognized.

This is the time of year when it always looks as if the world series would be between the two St. Louis teams.

A BOX OFFICE OBJECT LESSON.

A box-office experience in the local amusement field was discussed "By Nite" in the Sunday Post-Dispatch. At a scale of prices from $1.50 down, Thurston, the magician, did a week's business of $17,000. This showing was submitted to the theatrical managers as pointing a way to the revival of a business that has all but disappeared. The judgment was expressed that it is not the competition of the movies that has so nearly destroyed the legitimate drama, but the prohibitive admission charges. Many artists who now play mostly to empty seats would, it was contended, draw the old-time audiences which used to greet them by re-establishing the old-time reasonable rates.

Whether this conclusion is sound or not we do not assume to say, but the argument surely is plausible, supported as it is by such a substantial item of proof. In any event, where a situation is disheartening and is steadily getting worse from year to year, it does seem as if any expedient were worth trying that held any promise of relief.

The truth is the movie cannot be considered an artistic or intellectual rival of the spoken drama. It never can supplant the spoken drama, but the latter as a business can extinguish itself by flouting economic facts. The box office department of the legitimate theater apparently has not yet heard the word deflation, which almost every other business has not only heard but obeyed. The word deflation in this instance means common sense, of which Thurston, the magician, has given a five-figure demonstration.

Cicero's tomb has been converted into a stable and Cataline can boast that he always knew, the orator was an ass.

ON TO MEXICO!

Messrs. Coolidge and Kellogg have entirely met the expectation that as soon as Congress was out of the way they would make some unfriendly move toward Mexico in the hope of forcing a rupture.

This is precisely what they did do as recently as yesterday. It was announced by the State Department that the United States will not renew the anti-smuggling pact between the two countries which expires on March 28. There is an embargo upon the shipment of arms into Mexico from the United States, but as long as this treaty stood we gained nothing by lifting it. We would still have to give Mexico notice when arms were shipped across the border. With the treaty out of the way there is no such obstacle. We have only to lift the embargo, and the Mexicans will have to discover when and where arms are going across. Indeed, with the treaty abrogated, it is likely that arms will begin to move across the border despite the embargo.

There have been deeper plots than this, but in dealing with Mexico we do not have to be subtle. Mexico is one of the small countries for which Mr. Borah says we have a special foreign policy. She is not powerful enough for us to disguise our intention. Our intention is to make her give in to us on the agrarian issue and validate, good or bad, the land titles of our nationals. It is quite well known that to remove every obstacle from the path of arms and munitions going into Mexico would plunge that country into civil war. What we will do is to give her the choice between civil war and knuckling in to us on the land issue. By terminating the anti-smuggling treaty we put ourselves in a position which automatically forces Mexico to decide which she will do. Nobody knows any other reason why we should have terminated the anti-smuggling pact.

This is what the Senate resolution for arbitrating our differences with Mexico has come to. Mr. Coolidge said there was nothing to arbitrate. Mexico was confiscating the land of our nationals, and we could not arbitrate that. It made no difference that the principal holder of these disputed titles, Mr. Doheny, had just been compelled by the courts to relinquish his hold upon oil fields in the United States. Mr. Coolidge was obdurate. He is moving in his own way.

THE NEW FRENCH AMBASSADOR.

Meet the new French Ambassador, Paul Claudel. He is diplomat, man of affairs, mystic and poet. He has been Vice Consul at New York and Boston; Consul at Shanghai, Poochow, Tientsin, Prague, Frankfurt-on-Main and Hamburg; Minister to Brazil and Denmark and Ambassador to Japan. He is the originator of the "respiratory theory" of dramatic and lyric style. He is the author of 10 dramas, translations of Aeschylus and Coventry Patmore, nine volumes of poetry, a philosophical treatise on poetry and an incalculable amount of periodical literature.

Sounds like a literary high-brow and diplomatic stiff-shirt, doesn't he? That is just what we feared at first. But our fears were removed soon after M. Claudel arrived. One of his first acts after arriving in America was to make an address before a Kansas City audience. Did he, on this occasion, burden his listeners with a dissertation on drama or poetry? Hardly. This, on the contrary, was typical of what he said:

The Grand Canyon, which I have just visited, is, indeed, a hell of a hole, the most beautiful I've ever seen.

We salute M. Claudel, and assure him that he is all right with us. A French Ambassador who can so readily master both the American idiom and the custom of praising our much vaunted natural scenery is certain to achieve a splendid success.

EARL CARROLL'S CRIME.

Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, is not going to prison for a year and a day because he gave the celebrated bathtub party, but because he committed perjury when the grand jury asked him about it. This point will detract from the satisfaction of the fanatical moralist, who would much rather have Carroll expiate the first sin than the second. But we are not so sure but that the whole proceeding against Carroll is elevated rather than lowered by the fact that the action was based on perjury. If nothing else, it reminds us that perjury, whose practice is now appallingly widespread, is still a crime.

THREE GUESSES.

Do you know why the St. Louis Motion Picture Exhibitors' League is against daylight saving? Well, in the first place, the league's heart bleeds for what it calls the laboring folk. After profound consideration it announces that daylight saving "would work incalculable hardship on laboring folk, who must rise at early hours, and also by depriving them of an hour's rest in the coolest part of the morning." Further, the league is concerned over certain other results of daylight saving. For example, it says daylight saving "would create an hour's delay in the receipt of incoming shipments, telegraphic communications and mail, thereby retarding the expeditious routine of business in general." The league no doubt was prompted to stop there.

The comfort of the people and the convenience of business are certainly big issues. As an afterthought, however, and perhaps with much reluctance, the league gave another reason—namely: "Daylight saving would have a most unwholesome effect on the motion picture exhibition industry." Now will some bright child in the audience arise and make three guesses as to which of the three reasons really animates the league to such eloquence and such concern for public welfare?

WHAT PRICE PIONEERING?

Consider Dan'l Boone. In this erstwhile day of Oxford bags and Charlie Chaplin mustaches, Dan'l looms ever larger and more hairy-chested. Is there a man in St. Louis who could crack a hickory nut with his bare heels? Dan'l Boone could. There was a man, an Indian-killing, cabin-building, timber-cutting, stream-swimming, beagaloat. We erect statues to him in marble, and inscribe his name in gold leaf. Yet in his day Dan'l no doubt would have exchanged the most ornate monument for a good quarter of beef.

We are moved to these thoughts by the news from Lexington, Ky., that court records recently found reveal judgments against him totaling 55 English pounds for nonpayment of debt. Think of that! Dan'l opened up a wilderness and sent his name echoing forever through the corridors of fame, but in his lifetime he couldn't raise $275.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

MR. COOLIDGE'S "SOURNESS."

LADY remarks, on being asked how she likes President Coolidge, that personally she is not attached to him, on account of a certain grumpiness and forbidding tendency in his nature. This side of Mr. Coolidge's character is somewhat frequently referred to as his sour disposition. But this lady goes on to say that she thinks he is a very good man to tie to. As this woman is a thorough-going New Englander, such a comment can not be attributed to failure to understand the Yankee temperament. There are many who take about the same view and seem to be repelled by the qualities of taciturnity, and lack of geniality, which are commonly remarked of the President. Mr. Coolidge's remarkable career in the face of such characteristics is an almost unheard-of thing. There are few Coolidges in our politics. The people seem to like politicians of a dashing humor, buoyant and enthusiastic, and sympathetic folks, who are rather effusive in their promises, and lead everyone to hope that they are going to do something for the benefit of that particular individual. That a man who does not smile very much, who talks little in social contacts and who makes no comments on the things said to him, can have made such a great success, is one of the political marvels of the time. It can perhaps be attributed in part to the disillusionment which many people have felt through their political experience. We have all known the effusive type of politicians, who promised so very much, but got few or no results. After observing the failures of such people, it is rather a satisfaction to come up against a man who promises so little. There seems to be something rather substantial about him.

REFORMING THE PRIMARY.

THE BIDDEFORD JOURNAL is quite outspoken in its opinion of the direct primary system. It says that persons who are talking of reforming the primary are but wasting their breath and then suggests that the proper way to deal with the primary is by an operation similar to that proposed by a man who was asked by a friend if an operation on the latter's dog would not improve the appearance of the canine. The man agreed that an operation would do the trick and suggested that the cut should be made close behind the dog's ears. And then the Journal adds: "A similar operation on the primary, in the opinion of most men who are capable of doing some honest, straight thinking, is about the only way in which it can be reformed satisfactorily." Which is honest enough if drastic.

OLD STUFF.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
THE old Academy of Liars, fostered by the Gascones, is to be reorganized, according to a dispatch from Paris. Judging from the language in Congress last week a similar organization might be established in Washington, though "politicians and other ordinary liars" are ineligible among the Gascon story tellers.

A TRIBUTE TO THE POST-DISPATCH.

ARTHUR STRAWN in The American Mercury for April.

THE ambition of almost all St. Louis newspaper men, if one may ascribe such a characteristic to the guild, is to work on the Post-Dispatch. This eminent journal pays well, is considerate of its men, and is distinctly one of the best newspapers in the country. It is given to such public service as the recent exposure of Assistant Secretary of State Olds' attempt to spread bogus propaganda against Mexico, and it brought about a congressional investigation which resulted in the resignation of the notorious Judge English from the Federal bench. It is easily the strongest force in St. Louis fighting for enlightenment and personal liberty, while opposing official lawlessness. Is the city's one live contact with the outside world, without which St. Louis would be like a submarine without a periscope. But for all its excellent news service and intelligent editorial page, the Post-Dispatch reflects the indifference of St. Louis to matters of art and literature.

MORE LIBERTY FOR THE THIRSTY.

CANADA'S new liquor control bill, which has just been offered for first reading in the Legislature, contains several features of particular interest. For instance, it is provided that, while local option and temperance areas are respected, a man living in a dry municipality can take out a permit, purchase liquor from the nearest vendor and take it home in perfect safety. Thus, the bill aims to take care of the thirsty minority wherever it may be, and at the same time to respect the wishes of the dry majority. Another important item is the granting of absolute power to the control commission to refuse a permit to an individual without explanation. This is evidently designed chiefly for the protection of certain individuals from "their own worst enemies." Extra severe penalties are also provided for violations of the new act.

MAKING TERMS.

From the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.
If the two Democratic factions can't make terms with each other, they may make a third one for Mr. Coolidge.

ESSAYS ON LITERATURE. By

A. Clinton-Brock. Dutton.

HERE comes a quiet little book

with no raucous trumpets of publicity blown before it, and which passes by into the further silence, which is wiser than our most noisy shouting, no murmur of society will sweep across the crowd, is to recognize its own

as the final truth—which is the explanation of demagogues and the literature. But there are many individuals in the crowd who know that one who cares to understand the current conception of the world, for sometimes there is a light in them.

A. Clinton-Brock, who died recently, was a British critic, one of the few critics of our time who have not become mere echo-chambers faithful to the loudest din.

In the present volume his wife has collected together certain of his representative essays that have appeared in the London Times Literary Supplement and the London

Mercury.

The very striking thing about the book is its luminous sanity.

There is an article on "Pure Literature" that should be a revelation

to many essentially sincere but helpless people who have been misled by the current conception of criticism. Clinton-Brock knew that it is nothing in itself; that it is not a game to be played more or less brilliantly for pastime or even

for the admiration of one's fellows; but that all the arts, including literature, are merely devices

through which conceptions of value on a more comprehensive level

of consciousness may be communicated. Also he knew that all values that can be known to men are shared in human life. This truth

is not baldly stated in the essay,

but the consciousness of it will come upon the reader like moonlight.

The essay on "Art and Science"

will further illuminate the contemporary scene for eager seekers after understanding. "On Some Perpetuities of Criticism" might well

be printed in a pamphlet and distributed widely by some wealthy opponent of such a heinous society to the ignorant. We fought for the soft collar, we are firmly opposed to the abolition of collars. Think of the effect

WILD BILL HICKOCK, by Frank

J. Wiltach. Doubleday, Page

& Co.

This biography of a Western hero may be read either for its sheer romantic interest or as a study in the genesis of folk lore.

There are men still living who knew Hickock intimately; and yet

almost anywhere in the West one may hear stories of Wild Bill that would have done credit to Baron

Munchausen. The legend of the

McCluskey gun, in which Bill is generally credited with having slain 10 desperate and well-armed men in a closed room, is undoubtedly a masterpiece of that gorgeous personal liar known as "They."

It is perhaps only the human

art instinct in which the crudest

form and a portion of "They" is to be found in most of us. For instance,

the present writer felt a slight twinge of regret upon watching Mr.

Wiltach prick that particularly ridiculous bubble of heroism, Bill

Hickock, in which the hero had been set upon by 10 desperadoes

in a closed room, and coming out alone covered with blood and glory! That was something to make one feel like the horse in Job! But,

after all, the real Bill Hickock was the better man to know, and undoubtedly Mr. Wiltach has endeavored sincerely to reveal him.

Whether he has succeeded completely, who can say? But what we have is a pretty clear picture of an heroic type without which

there could have been no conquest

of the planet by mankind.

CARRY ON, SERGEANT! By

Bruce Bainsfather. Bobbs-Merrill.

A favorite diversion in the A. E.

F., when no off-icers were about,

was suggesting improvements in the conduct of all wars, but especially the one in which the A. E. F.

was engaged. While these suggestions generally came from the number 4 man in the rear rank,

Capt. Bainsfather seems somehow to have caught their spirit. If general staffs can be induced to read

this volume, the next war will be a decided improvement on the last

one. There will be a next one.

Underneath the veil of humor

which carries the author through suggestions for improving wars,

personal memories, light on the psychology of buck privates, character sketches of the American,

British, French and German armies, runs a feeling of hatred for the whole sorry, silly, hellish business;

admiration for the courage of friend

and foe alike; and a feeling that those who start wars should be forced to sit "in the front row."

SENATORS OPPOSE TERMINATION OF

Free shipment of arms into Mexico would result in an immediate assault on the Calles Government by the ever-present revolutionary factions of Mexico. A condition of chaos would follow. Then from Americans who are demanding an "iron hand" policy in Mexico would go up a clamor for intervention to restore order.

Congress Out of Way.

It is regarded as significant that the State Department waited until after the adjournment of Congress to announce its intention of ending the one-year term—next Monday. Only a few days ago, speaking for the Department of State in the presence of Secretary Kellogg, Assistant Secretary Grew said that no steps had been taken by either Government toward the abrogation of the treaty. This was in reply to rumors that the State Department was considering abrogation.

The absurd character of the Department's explanation is accentuated by the fact that the treaty was signed by the United States, and that Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews testified before a congressional committee a short time ago that the pact, together with the other rum conventions with neighboring countries, was working admirably.

The announcement by the Department followed a conference of the night before at the temporary Dupont Circle home of the President. President Coolidge, Secretary of State Kellogg, Assistant Secretary Olds and Ambassador Teller of Mexico were present. It is assumed that the Ambassador was then given his first word of the State Department's intention. The subject did not figure in the recent mysterious exchange of notes between the two countries.

Abrogation of the treaty will relieve Mexico of the responsibility of co-operating with United States customs officers along the border to prevent the shipment of liquor, narcotics and other contraband articles and the smuggling of aliens into the United States.

Position of Committee.

Whether the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has power to meet during the recess to inquire into the Mexican situation was discussed at the capital yesterday. The Borah resolution, specifically granting this power, was lost in the Old Guard filibuster of the last few days of the session. Senator Norris, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has been asked to give an opinion as to the right of the committee to meet under the routine resolution adopted at the beginning of the Sixty-ninth Congress, giving the committee general authority to exercise its usual functions.

Although the administration Republicans on the committee would undoubtedly oppose any effort to call the committee together in recess, Chairman Borah would have a majority for the plan if the Democrats should back him up.

Provisions of Treaty.

The anti-smuggling treaty covers

the shipment of arms in the general provision that all shipments of merchandise across the international boundary line shall be covered by a shipper's export declaration, which must be furnished to the customs officials of the country of destination. The parties agree "that the appropriate officials of either country shall give such information as the appropriate officials of the other country may request concerning the transportation of cargoes or the shipment of merchandise crossing the international boundary line."

There is a further provision for the exchange of information "regarding activities of any persons on either side of the border when there is reasonable ground to believe that such persons are engaged in unlawful migration activities or in conspiracies against the other Government or its institutions, when not incompatible with the public interest."

The shipment of arms by sea is covered in a provision that clear-

Sore Throat Wisdom

To relieve Sore Throat you must get the seat of the disease, counteracting the cause. Tonsiline is prepared and sold for that purpose. A dose of Tonsiline taken upon the first appearance of Sore Throat may save long days of sickness. Use a little Sore Throat Tonic and buy a bottle of Tonsiline today. You may need it tomorrow. Insist on the bottle with the necked fellow on it when you get it.

Years for Manslaughter.

Conviction of manslaughter, carrying a penalty of eight years in the penitentiary, was imposed on Mark Love, Negro, of 4085

Montrose street, by a jury in Circuit Judge Oasing's court yesterday, for the stabbing to death of Matthew Edwards, 3630 Papin street, another Negro. Love had been charged with second degreemurder. Testimony showed that Love and Edwards were in a dice game at the rear of 2927 Chouteau avenue last May 14 when a fight started and Love stabbed Edwards in the head with a knife.*ALCOHOL LEFT IN TAXICAB*SURRENDERED TO POLICE

Driver, Forced to Load Cans by Fare, Says He Later Took Revolver and Drove to Station. George Schoolman, 2019 Arsenal street, taxicab chauffeur, drove to the North Market Street Station last night, unloaded four cans of alcohol and told this story:

A young man got into his cab at Sixth and Morgan streets and was driven to two houses in North Venice, from each of which he brought two cans of alcohol and compelled Schoolman, at the point of a revolver, to load them in the cab. While they were at the second house, an automobile approached and the man started to run, also urging Schoolman to run. Suspecting a plot to steal the taxicab, Schoolman tripped the man, took away his revolver and drove to the police station, he said.

REFUSES TO ACCUSE MOTHER

Girl, 16, Silent on Witness Stand at Murder Trial.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Rather than testify against her mother, on trial for murdering her husband, 16-year-old Johanna Hellman remained silent on the stand before Judge Eller today. The mother is Mrs. Bertha Hellman, 48 years old. Johanna is one of six children.

The girl was asked: "Did your mother say anything to you about your father when you left home the day of the murder?" There was no answer. Four or five times the prosecutor repeated the question. Still no answer. The answer, the prosecutor alleges, was: "Johanna, I'm going to kill the old man tonight."

FREE OUTFITS FOR BABIES

Scheme of Councillor of Vienna as Election Approaches.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

VIENNA, Feb. 20.—Every baby citizen born in Vienna after March 1 will be endowed by the municipality with a first outfit of baby clothes, bed linen and bath towel. This is a scheme of Councillor Breitner, called by his friends the "Robin Hood of Vienna," and by his foes the "Robber Councillor." He is the director and financial dictator of the Vienna Socialist Town Council, who imposes local taxation to the limit of bearable capacity; his victims say, beyond it. Luxurious all-night cabarets and bars of Vienna threaten to close if he does not reduce taxation, which absorbs over 50 per cent of the takings. Drink which costs 2 shillings elsewhere costs 40 shillings in Vienna night resorts.

"Robin Hood" declares that Vienna has too many of these resorts, which date from the days when she was the capital of 53,000,000 people, and is deaf to threats of cabaret managements to dismiss their staffs. Austrian elections are nearly due—and every woman votes.

The United States has notified Mexico of the abrogation of the anti-smuggling convention, the Foreign Office declares that the treaty was entered into at the special request of the United States, and that Mexico gave hearty co-operation to fulfillment of its provisions during the time it was effective.

"As the initiative for this treaty lay with the United States, as also its denunciation," the Foreign Office says, "Mexico must consider the pact concluded in accordance with the terms thereof, as from the 28th of the present month."

Announcement that the United States will terminate the treaty has started speculation here as to whether this move may be followed by the lifting of the embargo against shipment of arms into Mexico. It is recalled that President Calles in receiving Herbert C. Herring and a Good Will mission of Americans early this year, said that lifting of the arms embargo would precipitate revolution against his Government by making it possible for rebels to obtain arms from the United States.

It is understood here that one of the reasons for the termination of the treaty is the fact that President Calles possesses authority to issue decrees at any time prohibiting importation of any articles or increasing customs duties. The United States Government under the anti-smuggling treaty conceivably might be compelled to act unfavorably to American commerce by preventing the shipment of Mexican articles which President Calles might bar.

SURRENDERS, DENYING POKER GAME KILLINGS

Detroit Bartender Says He Saw Stranger Shoot Two St.
 Louis Gangsters.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—Charles Becker, Detroit bartender, sought in the fatal shooting of two former St. Louis gangsters in a poker game here last week, surrendered yesterday. He denied the killing but was held for questioning.

The slain men, James Ellis, 34 years old, and Elroy Gray, 38, better known to police as Roy (Doggy) Snyder, came here from St. Louis with long records, and, as has been told, were found by a maid sprawled among cards and money on the floor of the Becker apartment on the afternoon following the shooting. The Queen of Spades, with a bullet hole through it was found up Ellis' sleeve.

Becker telephoned to police that he would surrender if they would give him a chance to tell his story before locking him up. Immediately following the assurance that he would be given an opportunity to talk, he appeared at the prosecutor's office.

"Tuesday night I played cards in my apartment with several friends until early Wednesday," Becker said. "Wednesday afternoon I was naturally very tired and went to sleep. About 7 o'clock that night, 'Doggy' Snyder came to the apartment and I let him in. However, I went back to bed immediately.

"Suddenly I was awakened by pistol shots. A man who had his back to me was blazing away at Ellis. Snyder lay on the floor. I jumped from the bed and ran out. I did not recognize the man who was doing the shooting.

"In hope that police would get the other man I laid low until today," he concluded.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Edward Kennedy said Becker's account of the murder is corroborated by other facts in the possession of police. After his statement was taken, Becker was turned over to the homicide squad, who will question him in an effort to learn the identity of the slayer.

TWO PERSONS KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY TRAINS ON EAST SIDE

Mrs. Ada Steele, 56, Struck at Crossing in East St. Louis;

Labovitz Decapitated.
 Mrs. Ada Steele, 56 years old, of 784 North Fifty-first street, East St. Louis, was killed yesterday afternoon when struck by an electric coal train of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway at the Eighty-second street grade crossing. The train crew said she apparently tried to cross ahead of the locomotive.

The train was westbound and running at a moderate rate of speed. Mrs. Steele was returning from a visit to her son, Lawrence Lathen of 431 North Eighty-second street. John Retzlaff, 75 years old, a former coal miner, was decapitated yesterday afternoon when struck by a Nickel Plate System freight train a mile south of Edwardsville. Retzlaff was picking up coal along the track. His hearing was defective. A verdict of accident was returned by a Coroner's jury last night.

AUTO KILLS BOY PLAYING IN STREET

John Becos, 10, Ran Between Parked Cars as Third Machine Drove Past.

Running to escape his 12-year-
old sister, who he had playfully
slapped, John Becos, 10 years old, ran from his home at 920 High street at noon yesterday, darted
between two parked automobiles
and was killed by an automobile
as he ran into the roadway. At an inquest today an accident verdict exonerated the driver, Otto
E. Winters, 18, of 1328 North
Twenty-first street.

The sister, Jennie Becos, told the jury that her brother struck her
just as they were preparing to return to the Patrick Henry Public School after the noon recess. She chased him to the street and was close behind him when he was hit.
Several witnesses corroborated
Jennie's story, but it was not clearly established whether the boy was hit by the automobile or whether he ran into the side of it. Winters said the accident happened so quickly he did not know. He took the boy to the City Hospital, where he died in the receiving room a few minutes later.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Buddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow skin, and eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches, a nervous, so-called "nervous" system, or any of the above, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and you will see results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and know them by their olive color.

CONSTIPATED SO BAD PILLS WERE USELESS

Milks Emulsion Soon Had Him in Fine Shape, Able to Work.

"I suffered a great deal from stomach trouble, and was sick in bed several times with it. Doctors couldn't do me any good, and pills had no effect whatever. I was so badly constipated. I was not able to work."

"I saw your advertisement in the paper and began taking Milks Emulsion. It sure did help me, and I have been taking it ever since last December. I feel that it saved my life. I only take a dose every morning now as I am in fine shape, and able to work every day."—Wm. McClellan, Stockport, Ohio.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, thus building flesh and strength, which are Nature's only aids in conquering germs and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion. If not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

DOCTOR TO EXPLORE MOUNDS IN MISSOURI

C. H. Pease of Morehouse to Continue Investigation Near Oran and Chaffee.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOREHOUSE, Mo., March 23.—Following discoveries near Oran and Chaffee last summer, Dr. C. H. Pease, archaeologist, plans further investigations there soon.

Following directions contained in an Indian legend, Dr. Pease believes he has located an Indian cave whose entrance has been covered by sedimentary slides. He began excavations last summer. He also found a number of stone cairns, he says.

The bottom of a cave is built of a large stone or stones. The sides are laid in a semicircle, the edges of the flat stones projecting inward to support a wide, flat stone, which forms the top.

"Inside, in each case, I found a human skeleton and at the mouth indications of a fire either of large proportions or one maintained for a long time," says Dr. Pease. "Within the tombs in most cases were found weapons and ornaments."

Six Types of Mounds.

There are six types of mounds in Southeast Missouri—cairn, house, ceremonial, observation, burial and sacrificial, according to Dr. Pease.

"The ceremonial mounds sometimes cover several acres and are quite high. The one south of Dexter contains 100,000 cubic yards of dirt and covers five acres. It is 150 feet high.

"The Mound of the Sun and the Mound of the Moon are near Charleston. There is one also near New Madrid.

"In regions where there are no natural points of vantage, the mound builders erected high mounds that are small in area for signal purposes. Rarely is anything discovered in them. There are several south of Poplar Bluff, some near Idalia and along Crowley's Ridge.

Plans Excavations.

"The common burial mounds were often simple. But the burial mound of a chief, high priest or medicine man is large and elaborate.

"There are many house mounds between Cape Girardeau and Memphis. They are small, round and conical. In them is found only broken ware of various kinds and other waste.

"The sacrificial mounds are similar to the ceremonial mounds, but are smaller at the base. On them shrines were built. Such a mound was destroyed at Belle Monte by the Government in building a levee. This spring Dr. Pease plans to make excursions into the mound fields south of Poplar Bluff and Dexter, where he will put a group of diggers to work.

Here's Real Relief From the Torturing Pains of Nerve

Men and Women Everywhere Seldom Fail to Get Quick Relief From Pain and Suffering

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to some good druggist and get a bottle of Allenburys Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, those persisting nerve racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of quelling painful, Gouty attacks and what is known as Rheumatism—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven to be fully successful in most cases of Neuritis and Sciatic Nerve Pain. Such things are only made possible by the fact that the formula can at the best give only partial relief.

Be sure you've got Number 2, then get Allenburys Special Formula No. 2. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. sell lots of it.

It would be palpably absurd to offer the I-ON-A-CO
as a treatment for a disease without knowing the cause of that disease, or to employ the I-ON-A-CO in the treatment of various diseases if they did not arise from the same source. The question has often been asked: How can I-ON-A-CO be effective in the treatment of two different ailments?

CELL GROWTH: In answering this question, let us take two ailments which would seem entirely dissimilar—namely, Eczema and High Blood Pressure.
Both of these ailments are directly caused by incomplete oxidation of the waste products of cell growth.
The body, as you know, is made up of trillions of living cells. As these cells consume nourishment, they likewise excrete waste. It is the function of the blood to absorb food, after it has been digested in the stomach and intestines, and carry it to the cells. It is also the function of the blood to remove the waste products of the cells, and the dead cells—for constantly cells are being created and other cells are dying.

OXYGEN: Before this waste material—the dead
cells and excreta of living cells—can be removed, it must be oxidized by the oxygen carried in the blood stream. When the oxygen in the blood stream does not combine with this waste, it accumulates. In some cases the system attempts to get rid of it by throwing it off through the skin; and we have the mortifying eruption—Eczema. In another instance, it remains in the blood, thickens it, and makes necessary an increased effort on the part of the heart to keep the blood flowing. This is High Blood Pressure.

Thus we see that both Eczema and High Blood Pressure, in fact, many other ailments, are due to the same cause—lack of oxidation of dead cells and toxic matter.
WARBURG'S DISCOVERY: In the past, science
had no way of increasing the oxidation of this waste.
Recently, however, Professor Otto Warburg, the celebrated Biologist, announced a highly important discovery: that the iron in the blood acts as a catalytic agent
or transfer medium in uniting oxygen with the tissue cells. So through magnetization, the catalytic value of the iron, that is its oxygen-transferring ability, is improved and the process of oxidation of waste is accelerated. This is exactly what the I-ON-A-CO accomplishes.

Delightful Free Treatments

However, the best proof of the I-ON-A-CO's efficacy is your own experience. Call at any one of the I-ON-A-CO offices and take a delightful 10-minute treatment. There will be no charge. You will not be obligated in the slightest degree. Surely, a return to health is worth your making this simple test.

GIRL PERJURER TELLS NAME OF 'REAL SLAYER'

Miner Arrested as Murderer in Tragedy in Which Dabney,
Now Freed Was Convicted.

By the Associated Press.

HARLAN, Ky., March 23.—A warrant against Charlie Williams, 25 years old, a miner, of Freeport,
charging him with the murder of Mrs. Lella Hicks Cole, was issued this afternoon after Marie Jackson, 27, had confessed she perjured herself in swearing that Conda Dabney had killed Mary Vickery, and named Williams as the slayer of the woman whose body was found in an abandoned mine.

Dabney, who was serving a life sentence, was pardoned yesterday by Gov. Fields and was released from prison. Mary Vickery, 16, had reappeared at her home Friday.

Today a move is under way to introduce a bill in the next State Legislature to compensate Dabney
for his experience.

Dabney was anxious to press charges against Marie Jackson, on whose testimony he was convicted.

SLAYER GIVEN LIFE TERM

Henry Graf, Formerly of St. Louis, Killed Wife at Elvins, Mo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LUTESVILLE, Mo., March 23.—
Henry Graf, charged with the murder of his wife on Nov. 30, at El-vins, St. Francois County, tried on a charge of venue at Marble Hill, has been convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment.

In her husband's absence, Mrs.
Graf had rented two rooms of her four-room residence in Elvins to her brother-in-law, W. A. Wampler, who is alleged to have at one time run Graf off the place.
On the morning of the killing Graf went to the back door of his wife's home and finding the brother-in-law, fired two shots at him and three shots at his wife.
The Graf's formerly lived in St.
Louis.

Farmer Kills Wolf With Hammer
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEXICO, Mo., March 23.—

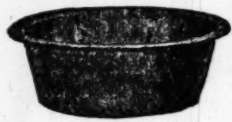

John B. Fennewald, a farmer liv-

Browns Obtain Infielder Adams From New York

Player, Landed in Cash Trade, Will Join Howley's Men Friday.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 23.—Spencer Adams, of the New York Yankees, was obtained last night to play with the Browns this season. The infielder comes for a cash consideration, amount not specified. Adams will report to the club at St. Petersburg, Friday.

Adams was signed as reserve material for the infield to protect the club in case Melillo fails to stand training.

Manager Howley is satisfied that the present infield of the team will stand up during the major league campaign, but he wants to be safeguarded in case of injury to any of its members. The only reserve material now available for the infield includes Walter Shannon, who is to be placed with a minor league club; Paul Richards, a third baseman, and Sturdy, who is strictly a first baseman.

Business Manager Bill Friel, who put over the deal for Adams, announced this morning that Shannon, Pitcher Ellis Austin, John Hawkins, who has not yet been declared eligible by Judge Landis and Ray Cahill, scout, will depart for Atlanta Thursday night to finish their training there. It is expected that this is just a preliminary step to transferring them to minor league clubs, presumably Southern Association teams.

Ross Defeats Adair.

ALEXANDER'S WORK INDICATES HE IS READY FOR OPENING OF SEASON

"Old Pete" Has Not Been Scored On in 14 Innings Worked in Exhibition Tilts

By J. Roy Stockton.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
AVON PARK, Fla., March 23.—"I've seen Alexander train many seasons, but I've never seen him in such wonderful form so early in the spring," said Bob O'Farrell, manager of the Cardinals, discussing the 40-year-old veteran's performance against the Washington Senators, which with five frames against the Giants and three against Athletics gave Old Pete a record of 14 successive scoreless innings.

He has two pitchers in excellent condition," O'Farrell continued. "Alex is ready and so is the opener if the season opens tomorrow. Now, if we can get two more into form, we'll be set."

Dyer's Work Pleasing.
O'Farrell said that he was highly pleased with the fine showing Dyer had made in recent exhibition games. He expected Dyer to be a great help to the team. At present Bob is counting on Dyer as a relief pitcher. Ed Dyer has been able to go in and check an attack and he has the temperament and the courage to make him a fine relief hurler.

He has worked so hard that in the past he has weakened after five or six days. That may have been due to lack of regular work, and his work with Syracuse contains indications that he cannot follow the full route. He will be given a chance to show whether he can travel nine innings at a going pace.

Many pleasing and some not so pleasing facts have been uncovered in the last few days. Frankie Schmitz's fine batting record against Senators pitchers, six hits in six times at bat, is highly encouraging and the Fordham Flash fielding as brilliantly as was expected. He was all over the infield yesterday grabbing hot bounces from the Senators.

At bat, and also made the infielders rejoice. They feel that the infield is all set now and ready for the championship race.

Shannon and Frisch have worked splendidly, starting on either side and they work as though they had been teammates always. Shannon has been in uniform two days.

Reinhardt and Bell Work.
The arms that Jess Haines and Jimmy Ring are nursing are some worry. Jess believes that his arm will be better when he gets North and the summer shines down. For some reason or other Haines has not been in the Florida sunshine. He is one of the few who are enthusiastic over the training conditions here.

Dyer ball I pitch hard is like a shot through my arm, and my "control" is shot. I guess I have to take it easy and let it heal it. I never had a simon arm and cannot account for it.

Only a few pounds overweight when he arrived here, he has lost much weight and is in good shape.

His right arm is in about the condition and the result is, Jim can't find the plate. He is improving. The last he tried to pitch he was extremely wild, but against the Phils he did fairly well until he tired.

Art Reinhardt and Herman Bell will pitch against the Cleveland Indians at Lakeland tomorrow and the boys expect the rangy southpaw from Texas to show that he is about ready to grab a job as a regular starter. Reinhardt can hit and field and is fast and makes the team that much stronger on defense and attack when he is on the hill. Control is the big thing with him. He has not a world of stuff, but he is a smart pitcher and when he can put the ball where he wants it he can bother any hitter.

The champions handed the Senators another drubbing yesterday and this time it was a sound one, 8 to 0. Alexander gave five hits in six innings and in four frames only two balls were hit out of the infield. Dyer pitched two innings and was able to stop the enemy, though he was a bit wild. The game was called on account of rain after eight innings.

Two Stars in a Slump.
Horace Lisenbee, Decatur Jones and Fred Marberry, three right-handers, divided the pitching burden for the Senators and the Cardinals collected 11 hits and bunched them effectively. Frisch beat out an infield hit and smashed two solid singles to the outfield, and Hafey cracked two hot ones down the third base line so viciously that Oswald Bluege's limbs were in danger.

Lester Bell and Jim Bottomley are not hitting yet, though Jim did line a good single to right in the sixth inning when an error, a walk and four straight Cardinal singles netted five runs. Bottomley never was a good spring hitter, but Bell usually warms the fence at this time of the year.

Today is an open date on the Cardinal schedule, the last except for Sunday's until Friday, April 8, when the team will arrive in St. Louis. Morning and afternoon workouts will be held, it being the last opportunity for two seasons in one day, as O'Farrell does not favor a morning drill on days when games are to be played.

Expected to Star

EDDIE DYER.

Southpaw pitcher, recalled from Syracuse, whose work in the Cardinal exhibition games, has impressed Manager Bob O'Farrell.

Rickard Fails To Sway Board

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 23.—The State Athletic Commission proposes to have no tampering with its rules governing the sale of tickets for boxing shows and limiting the purses of main bout fighters.

Two promoters, Tex Rickard of New York and Charley Murray of Buffalo, discovered this today after failing in efforts to have the boxing board rescind at least temporarily certain of its regulations.

Murray, seeking aid in obtaining two championship attractions for Buffalo, asked the commission yesterday to waive its limit of 50 per cent of the gate receipts for main bout boxers. He was told, however, to stick to this figure.

Rickard, after a debate that apparently failed to produce the firework expected, accepted the commission's edict that 50 per cent of the tickets for ring shows at Madison Square Garden must be sold the day of the fight. Complimentary tickets, for the Anne Okleys—also must be restricted to 2 per cent of the total, the commission told Rickard.

Announcement was made today by Promoter Tom Packs that he has signed Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, to oppose John Pesek of Ravenna, Neb., in a finish bout at the New Coliseum arena, April 7.

During the period between December, 1920, and February, 1925, when Lewis resigned as heavyweight champion, Pesek, who then wrestled under the management of Max Bauman, a brother of the "Strangler's" pilot, was familiarly known as the "policeman" of the Bauman interests, because of his activities in disposing of title contenders.

After Lewis relinquished the title to Wayne Munn at Kansas City in January, 1925, Pesek severed his connection with the Bauman stable, and since has won recognition as one of the foremost candidates for the championship now held by Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb.

Within the past year Pesek has come to grips with Stecher twice, losing the deciding fall after five hours of tussling in a match at the New Coliseum last April 30, and again meeting defeat in a return bout in Los Angeles last summer.

The coming bout will mark the second meeting of Lewis and Pesek. Their previous bout was contested at Kansas City four years ago. Pesek was disqualified for resorting to unnecessary violence.

Lewis has not appeared in a St. Louis match since 1924, when Packs barred him from competition at the New Coliseum because of his refusal to accept Stecher's challenge.

Lewis and Pesek To Wrestle Here
Heavyweight Title Contenders Meet in a Finish Match, April 7.

Borotra Reaches Quarter-finals Of U. S. Meet

Bugnon Opposes Fred Anderson Today in Indoor Tennis Event.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 23.—Three seeded metropolitan tennis players today trailed Jean Borotra, French star, into the quarter-finals of the national indoor championship.

In today's matches, Jacques Brugnon, compatriot of Borotra, has an opportunity to reach the quarter-finals, but he must defeat Fred Anderson, former holder of the title, to do so. Francis T. Hunter opposes Frank Bonneau of New York and Dr. George King meets John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J.

Paced by the brilliant stroking of the Basque, who routed Herbert L. Bowman, former New York State champion, Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., Percy Kynaston of Rockville Center, N. Y., and Dr. George King gained their brackets in a day which tingled with thrills and skirted threatening racquets for at least three outstanding contenders. Borotra's decisive victory provided the most finished exhibition of tennis in the fourth round. In spite of desperate court-covering, Bowman was able to win only one game, 6-0, 6-1.

Off For the Relays.

ISO=VIS Receives Enthusiastic Praise

Iso-Vis, the revolutionary new motor oil, developed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become immediately and immensely popular.

From all over the Middle West come letters commending the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), telling of the remarkable performance of this new motor oil. The following letter is typical.

Auburn, Michigan, Dec. 21, 1926.
Standard Oil Co., Seginaw Division, Seginaw, Mich.
Gentlemen:
I take great pleasure in recommending Iso-Vis Motor Oil to any user of motor oils. I know it gives better starting lubrication and extended lubrication service.

As a resale product I find that it moves faster than any motor oil product I have ever sold.

I have placed my first repeat order of five barrels with your salesman Mr. Burt Trombly.

(Signed) Dalvin Lamar
Willis W. Rosckraus

Ford Agency

Iso-Vis has aroused enthusiasm because it solves the old dilution problem that has bothered motorists for years. The oil of the past lost two-thirds of its body, or viscosity before the car had gone 200 miles. Iso-Vis maintains constant viscosity.

Iso-Vis is of the right body to make starting easier. After a thousand miles it is still of the right body, lubricating efficiently and completely.

That is why Iso-Vis reduces repair bills—puts new pleasure and satisfaction in motoring—and creates enthusiastic customers! Try it today!

SMALL CROWD SEES SIX KNOCKOUTS IN COLISEUM BOXING SHOW

LUCAS FINISHES BIGGER NELSON IN 4 ROUNDS

Malcor, Failing to Knock Out Shaulers, Loses on Points—Riley and Pivac Add Knockouts to Program of Hard Punching.

By Jack Alexander.

If, as the popular theory has it, the average boxing fan is just straining on the leash to buy a ticket to a knockdown-and-drag-out boxing show, there are not more than 1400 or 1500 fans in St. Louis. This has been the average attendance at the blood-thudding exhibitions of the New Coliseum A. C. this season.

Last night's card provided six knockouts in eight fights and included two fair displays of boxing in the Lucas-Nelson and Shaulers-Malcor fights. But the crowd hovered around the usual mark and those who ponder seriously the future of Western civilization became grave and silent when it was noted about that Strangler Lewis and John Pesak had been matched for a "reading" match, which was expected to tax the capacity of the big amphitheater. It probably will, which only goes to show—

Lucas Has Class and Punch. Jimmy Lucas, who knocked out the veteran Digger Nelson in the fourth round of their flyweight bout last night, is one of the flashiest performers Jack Tippett has yet put before the public. The youngster, who has speed, footwork and a good, hard punch, was far too much for the old Digger and won going away.

Kid Shaulers and Henry Malcor went through another episode of their perennial feud with Shaulers having a slight edge. Malcor started in the first round and shaking Shaulers with another left in the same session, but failed to show much thereafter, while Shaulers outboxed his opponent throughout, although he seemed to lack a knockout punch.

It is hardly likely that these two will be matched again soon as it is obvious that Shaulers is too elusive for Malcor and Malcor too tough for Shaulers to put away. Gene Riley, a popular little southpaw, had Curly Burns of Duquoin on the run for five rounds and stood a fair chance of scoring a knockout when Burns' holding tactics caused him to be disqualified by Referee Helmer, who had previously cautioned him against delaying the bout.

Tom Pivac, St. Louis' leading light-heavyweight, knocked out Harry Ethington of Mattoon in two rounds, but not before receiving a couple of good clips alongside the eye and spilling red ink all over the ring.

The four preliminaries ended in thumping, thudding, thunderous knockouts. You thump me and I'll thump you. See tabulated results.

Ward Named Captain.

Leaders Hold Places in A. B. C.—17-Year-Old Boy Gets 663 in Singles.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PEORIA, Ill., March 23.—Not a change was recorded among the leaders in the American Bowling Congress competition yesterday. Numerous pin knights, who are recognized competent performers, were in action.

H. L. Douglas and L. J. Hamilton, Peoria, did the best work of the day. The visitors just missed placing among the "select ten" in the doubles, which they totaled 1254, with games of 450, 418 and 246. Edward Votel, who won the singles championship last year at Chicago with a 731 total, relinquished his title when he counted 639. William Foley, 17-year-old Albany bowler, proved best in the singles event, scoring 681.

The Harry Young Oil Co. five of Tulsa, Ok., with a total of 2882 showed best among the 48 teams in action last night.

Another St. Louis team, the Saratoga five, failed to break into the select circle, getting but 2398 pins. Score:

Koenig Is Named Official of New Power Boat Body

Gulf-to-Lakes Association Will Hold Chicago-to-New Orleans Race.

Edwin C. Koenig, commodore of the St. Louis Yacht Club, received a wire from A. T. Griffith, secretary of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association, asking him to serve as vice commodore of the Gulf-to-Lakes Race Association, formed at a meeting of power boat men at Peoria recently. Koenig wined his acceptance and yesterday received particulars of a proposed race from Chicago to New Orleans to be sponsored by the organization.

The distance of 1700 miles will be divided into laps. Speedboats—both runabouts and hydroplanes—will be stationed at intervals along this course. The starting boat from Chicago will carry messages from the Mayor of Chicago to the Mayor of New Orleans, from the president of the Chicago Waterways Association to the presidents of similar bodies in St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans, and also messages from the commodore of the Chicago Yacht Club to heads of similar clubs along the route.

Regional Directors Named. Regional directors have already been appointed to get fast boats to traverse the various laps. S. S. Bell of Chicago will have charge of the distance from Chicago to Peoria. Willard Waugh of Peoria will spot the boats down the Illinois River as far as Grafton and Koenig will have the long stretch from Grafton to Memphis. R. E. Berry of Memphis, Fred Schelben of Greenville, Miss., and Val Flanagan of New Orleans will look after the lower Mississippi.

A committee which was appointed to determine the feasibility of the project reported that an average speed of 40 miles an hour could easily be maintained.

In order to insure speed, prizes will be offered the craft making the best time over the different laps. The power and canal of the project will be taken in consideration.

To Use Experienced Men. The route of 1700 miles is the longest ever attempted by power-driven craft. The route is six miles up the Chicago River, 40 miles on the Chicago drainage canal, 65 miles on the Michigan-Illinois Canal, 240 miles on the Illinois River and the balance of the distance on the Mississippi River.

Due to obstructions in the river at various points, Koenig will ask that experienced river men be placed in the boats. It is expected that Government officials will assist in providing for the safety of the contestants.

The event will have the sanction of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association.

23 TEAMS ENTERED IN NATIONAL SCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL TOURNEY

CHICAGO, March 23.—A total of 23 teams have accepted invitations to participate in the national scholastic basketball tournament at the University of Chicago here for the 1927-28 season.

Invitations were dispatched to London, Ky., the State champions; West Side High of Patmos, W. Va.; Franklin, Del.; Bristol, Conn. and Grand Forks, N. D.

The Ketchikan, Alaska, team today wired that it had accepted a 15-day invitation but was doubtful of making an appearance because there was no traveling money available.

SERGEANT JACK ADAMS KNOCKED OUT AGAIN

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 23.—Benny Touchstone, Tampa heavyweight, knocked out Sergt. Jack Adams of St. Louis in the ninth round of a 10-round scheduled bout here last night.

Earl Hudson, Miami's "fighting one," knocked out Larry Kepner, Indianapolis, middleweight, in the second round of a scheduled eight-round match.

WIDE TRAINING FOR RACE WITH RITOLA

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Edvin Wide, Swedish schoolmaster runner, is here at Georgetown University training for his two-mile race with Willie Ritola at New York Saturday. He daily does a practice run. After his New York appearance, Wide will return here to train for his first outdoor race at Harvard University May 7.

Missouri House and Senate Vote to Legalize Boxing

Bill in Each Branch of Legislature Provides for Commission and 10-Round No-Decision Bout.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 23.—The boxing bill to legalize 10-round no-decision, exhibition bouts in Missouri, was passed late today by the State Senate, 19 to 10.

The action came after the measure had once been defeated 15 to 13, when several Senators who favor its passage were absent from the chamber.

Senator William Maffit Bates of St. Louis, one of the sponsors of the bill, changed his vote when the measure first came up today from "aye" to "no" so that the vote might be reconsidered.

The measure now goes to the house for consideration. The house earlier today passed the house boxing bill which is exactly the same as the Senate bill.

The bill was sponsored by the American Legion and encountered considerable opposition in the House from rural members. It does not repeal the present sections of the State law making it a felony to promote or participate in a prize fight.

A similar bill was passed by the 1926 Legislature, but was vetoed by the Governor. The bill creates a commission of three members, one the director of athletics of the University of Missouri and the two others to be appointed by the Governor. The commission is given general supervision of all boxing and sparring exhibitions held in Missouri and is empowered to make rules and regulations governing the conducting of such bouts and to regulate the admission prices.

No bout can be held without a license from the commission, the bill provides, but issuance of a license is restricted to patriotic, benevolent, fraternal or religious organizations which have been in existence and have held meetings at regular intervals for one year prior to granting of the license.

The fee for each license issued is $10 and in addition, the commission will receive 5 per cent of the gross receipts for every boxing show held.

The bill prohibits the commission from issuing a license for a boxing bout within the limits of an incorporated city or town. The City Council has consented to the holding of the bout.

Members of the commission will

U. of Chicago to Oppose St. L. U. Here Tomorrow

Maroons, on First Baseball Spring Training Trip, Have Five Lettermen Back.

Coach Stivers is cutting down his St. Louis University baseball squad today, preparatory to the opening game of the season tomorrow afternoon against the University of Chicago, which is scheduled to stop here on a spring training jaunt.

Freund, a right-hander and a real hurler of last year, will start on the hill for the Bulls, and Esplinda and O'Rourke, new men, will be held in reserve. Cold weather has impeded the conditioning of the whole team, especially of the pitchers, and a brilliant display of mound work is not expected.

The other eight positions are divided evenly between lettermen and sophomores. Jordan, a veteran, will start behind the bat. O'Leary on first and Cain at second. Another regular on last year's squad, Kane, has been shifted to right field because of a sore arm and also to give Tom Hamratty, a new man, a chance to show his stuff at shortstop. Jack Rutledge, another newcomer, is to hold down third base.

The other members of the outfield will be Bollwerk in left and either Conroy or Luke in center. Tomorrow's game will be the last regularly scheduled contest until Wisconsin calls here April 11. The at-home schedule:

March 24—Chicago.
April 11—Wisconsin.
April 12—Northwestern.
April 13—Iowa.
April 14—Vanderbilt.
April 15—Arkansas.
May 6—Washington.
May 7—Cornell.
May 14—Cornell.
May 21—Washington.

A trip to Chicago, where De Paul University and either Chicago or Northwestern will be met in a two-day stay, is under consideration.

Tilden Will Win European Titles, Says Hunter

"Big Bill" Playing as Well as Ever—Invasion Starts April 27.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Frank T. Hunter, who will team with Big Bill Tilden in an official American tennis invasion of Europe this spring, believes the tall Philadelphia will win both the French and English championships.

"He is playing as well as the ever did in his life," Hunter said, "and is extremely keen. His knee gave him no trouble in the South, where he played twice recently."

April 27 has been set tentatively as the date for his sailing with Tilden. The first international team match will be played in Berlin, with contests following in Holland, Belgium and France.

After competing in the French hard-court championships starting May 24, Tilden and Hunter will play team matches in Ireland and London.

SAGE TEA TURNS
GRAY HAIR DARK

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two or three Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

A Raw, Sore Throat

eases quickly when you apply a little Musterole. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain and, won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Brings quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds on the chest.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. Jars & Tubes.

FORMER ARKANSAS SENATORS TO HEAD STATE INSTITUTIONS

The Rev. J. E. Woods Appointed Superintendent of Confederate Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LITTLE ROCK Ark., March 23.—Appointment of the Rev. J. E. Woods of Hamburg as superintendent of the Confederate Home, and of W. A. Jackson of Walnut Ridge as superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School was announced by the State Board of Charities and Correction yesterday. Both appointees were formerly members of the State Senate. The Rev. Mr. Woods represented Chicot and Ashley Counties during the session of 1919 and 1921, and Jackson represented Lawrence, Sharp and Randolph Counties in the sessions of 1921 and 1923.

The appointments are effective April 1. The Rev. Mr. Woods will succeed the Rev. E. M. Pipkin, superintendent of the Confederate Home since Dec. 1, 1926, while Jackson will succeed W. L. Fulmer, head of the Boys' Industrial School since early in 1925.

The following appointments were announced by the Board of Charities and Corrections last night: Reappointment of Dr. L. R. Brown as head of the State Hospital for Nervous Diseases; Mrs. Mary E. Graham of Little Rock to succeed Mrs. Bertha Penders as superintendent of the State Farm for Women; Dr. E. T. Pender as physician at the State Farm for Women; Dr. J. C. Cunningham as physician at the Training School for Girls; Dr. S. B. Colquhoun as physician at the Boys' Industrial School.

SEDALIA WOMAN TO MANAGE
MUSIC CONTESTS AT FAIR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 23.—The Missouri State Fair Board has selected Mrs. Latonia Barnett of Sedalia as superintendent of all music contests at the State exposition here Aug. 20-27.

The junior music contest has gained national reputation, and cash prizes will be offered under five classifications. Mrs. Barnett has a State reputation in music circles. She had her vocal training under Herbert Witherspoon of New York City, interpretation under Frank Moore, acting under Jacques Colmi, and French and Italian under Mile. M. De Gineheim.

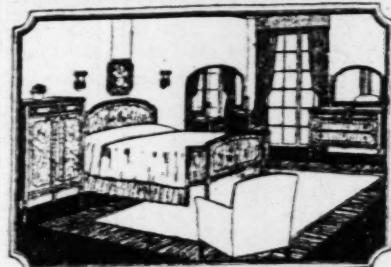

Mrs. Barnett also studied voice under Herbert Wall, head of the voice department of the University of Missouri.

Charles Wright Ran Away From Springfield (Ill.) Home.

Charles Wright, 13 years old, who ran away from his home in Springfield, Ill., last week, confessed last night he climbed through a window of the home of Mrs. Robert Ewayne, 3630 Finney, avenue, Friday night and stole $70 from a dresser drawer. He had a watch and $29 in his pockets when taken into custody at Taylor avenue and Page boulevard. The watch was claimed by Abe Shanfeld, of 5045 Cates avenue, who said it had been stolen by burglars. The boy insisted he bought it for $10 from another boy, but admitted the cash was all that was left of the stolen $70.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils. In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, short-

THE WOMAN
OF IT.

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

When Daughter's Home.

When Daughter's home, the staid old house
Casts off its quiet air,
There's laughter in the hallways,
Flying feet upon the stairs,
The sleepy bird wakes up and trills,
The cat frisks 'round in play,
And like a fairy dancing
Speeds by each passing day.
There are boys' adoring voices,
And girls like posies pined,
And lights and flowers and fest-
ing,
And music's flowing tide.

When Daughter's home, my being wakes
And feels life's pulsing power,
The sparkle of young, vibrant thoughts
Makes scintillant each hour.
Like long forgotten echoes
My past comes back to me,
I seem to dream old magic dreams,
By Youth's unresisting sea,
Where ride the ships called Golden Hope.

And Love-to-Be and Fame;

OREOLA HASKELL

SYLPH-DETERMINATION.

A NICE woman—we know she's nice, because she likes our beach—
Has written to tell us we are all wrong on the high post of poundage.

She says that a woman can do all
her own work,
And be neither greedy nor lazy—
and STILL be fat!

She says women inherit flesh,
And "ask no fonder of it than anyone else."

And recent being criticized for it—
Because they can't help themselves!

First of all, we honestly didn't mean to hurt the feelings
Of any woman who is fat and can't help it.

And, since plump persons are pro-
verbially good-natured,
We hope they'll forgive us.
If you remember, we did say, in our column, on surplus poundage.

That being fat may be due to being ill.

We know, of course, that certain
glacial conditions,
Or the weak heart which forbids
exercise.

Or even, perhaps, an inherited tendency toward overweight.
May make a woman put on flesh
Of which she finds it difficult, if not impossible, to rid herself.

Only—a woman should be SURE,
By consulting her physician,
That she belongs to the small group who cannot reduce Before she says she cannot help being fat.

Why bother about reducing?
Because it's so much pleasanter not to be overweight.

We went into all the reasons the other day—
Reasons of health, comfort, appearance, economic value.

We were not criticizing the corpulent.

So much as we were repeating current criticisms of them.
Criticisms which are made, without the fat like it or not!

And we were trying to point out That sylph-determination—the resolve to reduce SENSIBLY—Really might be put into practice
By many women who sigh, with Hamlet,

"Oh, that this too, too solid flesh
would melt!"

The dictionary defines "greedy"
As "having a keen appetite for food or drink."

We ask you, have not most overweight persons such an appetite?

Especially for the WRONG things Sweets, creamed potatoes, hot biscuit?

We know perfectly well that the reason
Why we once collected 25 surplus pounds
Was because we too much appreciated
Our mother-in-law's delicious hot breads and mashed potato.

We were greedy—until we woke up to the fact.

And went on a sensible diet for two months or so.

And shed the 25 surplus pounds.
And have felt better ever since!

IT CAN be done, by many women.
Even if they "inherit" flesh.

The only point we wish to make
Is that it's common sense, not vanity,
To be the RIGHT weight—neither over nor under—

And that many—of course, not all fat women—
Are so because they won't practice sane self-denial about what they eat and what they do.

It is worth it—if your doctor doesn't object.

We wanted to stir up the plump
darlings who sit in rocking chairs
and munch chocolates,
And then sigh about their size!

You know the type!
So, will the hard-working victims
of avoirdupois

Who honestly believe they can't help themselves,
Accept our apologies, if we were too emphatic?

F. S. And don't be too sure that a good physician cannot give you

A reducing regime which really will reduce Even the pounds that "run in the family!"

Ask Her Husband.

GETTIERThe Diary of
a New Father

Wednesday night.

WHEN I went into the office
this evening to make my daily sales report, I saw the boys that I have invited to the poker game at my house tomorrow night, and they all said they certainly were looking forward to the customary little drink, and they asked me if I was buying it by the case or just by the bottle for the party, and I could not do anything except sort of laugh, because Joan will not let me get any, and I certainly did not have the nerve to tell the boys that, and I only have 24 more hours to think up an alibi
and I might as well stop thinking because they will not believe anything but the truth and that will not relieve their thirst any.

When I came home, I said,
"Joan, dear, you look tired," and she said, "Who wouldn't look tired,
after taking care of a baby all day long?" and I let the matter rest
for a while because husbands have to be good at psychology, and then I said, "I tell you what, Joan, dear, tomorrow night when the boys are here playing poker, you go out to a movie, darling," and Joan said,
"What for?" and I said, "Well, you look tired, dear, and you could relax at a movie instead of staying here and being under the strain of acting as hostess, darling," and Joan said, "I can relax better by just sitting in the sun parlor and reading a magazine while you are playing, and anyway I would have to be back in time to serve the lunch."

I said, "Now, dear, I can serve the lunch myself, and you can go to TWO movies, sweetheart, and by the time you get home we will be all through eating and the party will be almost ready to break up,
dear," and Joan said, "Well, I would only have to do the dishes
when I came home, anyway," and I said, "Why, darling, we will do the dishes ourselves and have everything nice and clean when you get back, dearest."

Joan said, "No, I don't believe
I will," and I said, "Dearest, it would do you a awful lot of good to go to a movie and relax, sweetheart," and Joan said, "I have to stay here in case the baby should wake up," and I said, "Darlingest,
he never wakes up in the evening," and Joan said, "No, thanks. I really don't care to go."

"Well, I didn't say anything because I was busy thinking up something to say," and Joan said,
"Haven't you any more ideas?" and I said, "Ideas?" and she said, "Yes
—ideas to get me out of the house
so you can give your friends a few drinks?" and there is THAT hope gone, and it beats me how women can read your mind; I think they must be psychic or something.

Ten years ago you began to meet more of them, many were visited by misfortune and who were women whose homes had been earning to tide over a rough place.

Very few wished to earn merely for the sake of an independent income, or because they feared to become stodgy and behind the times if they settled down to dish-

ing, sweeping, cooking, and taking care of the children.

Now it has come to a point where at least half the young women who hold positions decide to "go on with the job" after they marry.

They give various reasons for this, one you hear most frequently being the high cost of living.

Does this mean that husbands
no longer can support their wives and take care of their homes?

And does a wife do the right thing when she goes out to work
so she may have luxuries in her home, being dissatisfied with the mere comfort her husband might provide?

What do YOU think about it?

Bacon Sauce.

Cut a quarter pound of bacon into dice and fry it. Work into the fat a finely chopped onion and a tablespoonful of flour. Add a half pint of water, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, pepper, salt, a little sugar, and when blended use over a hot potato salad.

LETTING make-up, powder and rouge stay on the face over night is a grave beauty mistake.
That tends to clog the pores; invites blackheads and imperfections.
Hence experts urge nightly cleaning with a TRUE COMPLEXION
SOAP and water.

Thus, largely on expert advice,
millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil farther into the skin.

Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly at night. Note how much better your skin in even one week!

The Working Wife

By Lucy Powell.

WHAT DO YOU think of the WORKING WIFE?

Is the married woman
who goes outside her home to earn
her salary an asset to society?

Or do you consider her a menace to the home, the nation and the race?

What, exactly, is the wife's place
in the scheme of living nowadays
when old orders are being upset
and womanhood is crying out against the notion that duty ties
her to the home?

Do YOU know one of these WORKING WIVES intimately?
What do YOU think of the life
she leads and the home she is making for her husband? Is it the sort of home you would wish for yourself?

Do YOU think the extra money
she brings in compensates for what she must of necessity leave undone: personal touches in her home-making, care she might give her husband and her children, if she has any?

Sociologists, statisticians and others having to do with problems of human living are beginning to worry about the working wife.

A rare person she was not so many years ago. Twenty years back there were married women who earned, but few of them went outside their homes to do it.

They gave music lessons or did dress-making or did some such feminine thing as permitted them to give the great part of their time to managing their homes.

Potatoes Au Gratin.

Take 6 boiled potatoes (sliced), 1 pint of cream or milk, 1 tablespoonful of butter, 4 heaping tablespoonfuls of grated cheese and salt and cayenne pepper to taste. Put the butter in a pan to melt, add
the flour and mix until smooth.
Then add the cream or milk and
stir continually until it boils.
Take from the fire and add the cheese, salt and cayenne pepper. Now put a layer of this sauce in the bottom of a baking dish or pan, then a layer of the potatoes. Repeat the layers alternately, having the last layer of the sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and put in a hot oven for 10 or 15 min-

Dress According to Type

By Lucretia Bori

THE old saying, "clothes make the man," is certainly true enough, but when it refers to the other sex, the expression could go even further—"clothes either make or unmake the woman."

The woman who wears individual clothes is an individual woman.
This idea of wearing just what your neighbor wears because your neighbor must be in style, is the greatest mistake made by femininity.

I think it was Irene Castle,
whose clothes have been at once
the despair and pattern for so many women, who said,
"Never pick your clothes by the mode, choose them by your mirror."

If you look nice with your skirts very short, wear them very short. If you look better with your limbs suggested rather than demonstrated, let your hem-length be guided accordingly. If your bust is rather large, and the rest of your body rather small, do not wear one of these loose hanging frocks just because fashion so decrees. Wear something that fits in, or the largeness of the bust will give you large lines all over.

Watch the shoulder line in selecting your frocks. For shoulders that are too narrow, a sleeve set well out at the end of a shoulder line cut straight from the collar, will give an added length.
But women with very wide shoulders should have the sleeve set well up on the shoulder, to be well tailored.

Large hips are best concealed by straight lines. Tall women look better by breaking the length of their frocks with a belt, suggested or real as fancy pleases. Short women should beware of belts, lest they appear "dumpy."

The most important factor in choosing clothes is to decide your type. Do you look best in plain tailored clothes, or fussy fancy frocks? Are ruffles becoming to you, or do they make you appear

TO BE perfectly satisfied, both Henry and John must have a holder that fits the hand, a pen point that suits their style of writing and must be given a choice of styles. This is true of any man or woman who buys a fountain pen.

Many fountain pens possess some features of excellence but all the features that insure lifelong service and satisfaction are found only in Waterman's Ideal
Fountain Pen.

Pen satisfaction
results from the selection of the proper pen point.
Waterman's offers a choice of nine pen points ranging from very fine to coarse stub.

Pen satisfaction results from the proper size holder. Waterman's may be had in any of five sizes ranging from thin to stout.

Pen satisfaction results from careful attention to manufacturing detail. From the light, resilient hard rubber holder to the iridium-tipped solid gold pen point, every Waterman feature must pass inspection of a score of lynx-eyed censors.

The pen illustrated is made of "Ripple" genuine stainless Rubber. It is No. 01855 and will suit most hands for size. It sells for $6.50. Smaller sizes cost $4.00 and $5.00. Larger sizes $7.50 and $9.50.

A ring at the door sent Miss Malaprop dancing down the stairs.
It must be George and they were

George. It was Jack, an ex-

A few moments later George ar-

Jack had come from Washington to see her.

Both men stood waiting for the decision.

At last she told George to wait long journey to see her for an evening. She felt it was better to cancel the dance engagement and remain home.

George frowned. Miss Malaprop tried to explain as she went to the door with him. But George was gone again. They had planned to go to this particular dance for many weeks.

On the other hand Jack was dignant. Why hadn't she told him about the dance and this evening man? If she had played this would have called at another time.
They spent the evening quarreling and it was not until he took himself up to his room that he made up.

LOVE: A passport to Paradise, with a round-trip ticket to Paradise—and back to earth, again.

The boy who used to read "Dead-End Dick" behind his geography book now has a daughter who reads "Sexy Stories" behind her year's copy of The American Mercury.

Marriage is the miracle which so often turns a lover who was as slow as a caterpillar, into a husband who is as gay as a butterfly.

When the Lord found his children getting into mischief He turned them out of the Garden of Eden and put them to WORK. The modern parent sends them to college, buys them automobiles and gives them money to fill their pocket-flasks! And then he wonders why "the Lord has afflicted him!"

We never give ourselves time to convalesce from a love affair or broken marriage, nowadays; but just rush madly out of one "bad" into another on the theory that a heartache like a morning-headache, can be cured by "the hair of the dog."

Also, there are X-rays to tell you all about the state of your husband's teeth, stomach and liver—but nothing on earth to tell you what's going on inside of his mind or his conscience!

Musolini has the right idea. Make the bachelors hustle so they can pay their "single-blessedness tax" that they will be glad to marry and support a woman—just for relaxation!

Rich men often make poor husbands. But a man who works and from nine to five with the wolf howling at his heels hasn't much time or energy left in which to pursue rainbows, flirtations, flappers and golf scores.

Wholesome Approbation

By CHAS. A. L. REED, M. D.

Former President of the American Medical Association.

O YOU like decent, well-meant, honest praise? Don't deny it, for you do. So does everybody. And how you did like a word of praise from father or mother when you were a child!

What was true of you as a child is today true of your children. Children have the capacity to distinguish between naughtiness and a very early age. Naughtiness is punished and done with. Praise is a more lasting incentive on the mind and produces a sense of inferiority.

It is because the child acquires a sense of sin through the effect of grownup disapproval. When it is ruled or breaks something it is merely punished, but if it is rebuffed it has to face disapproval.

Some children love approbation more than others, and are correspondingly more susceptible to disapproval.

After suffer torments in the conflict between the desire to own up to the deed and the fear of consequences.

It is very difficult and very important to train a child to conquer fear which leads to morbid, repressed, and yet not to blunt the moral sense which makes it possible to steal a piece of chocolate as bad as to steal a purse. It is impossible to do just as much harm by telling the child that he has done wrong as by telling him that he has done well.

It is that word "hell!" How often the man who invented it! How often the memory of the words which he uttered at the time of his childhood! Hell, with its connotations, spear-pointed pitchforks, holding a small boy over the head!

Isn't it a pity that there is often a fear of hell which happens next.

The fear of the next step is, indeed, an experience common to everyone all through life. It is the fear of the unknown. The baby thinks unconsciously from the

St. Louis Maids and Matrons, Socially Prominent,
As Mannequins in Spring Fashion Promenade

Sketched for the Post-Dispatch by Marguerite Martyn

When maids and matrons, socially prominent, act as mannequins as they did at Hotel Chase yesterday in a spring fashion promenade managed by Mrs. Charles Cummings Collins on behalf of "Les Quatre Saisons," the costume shop of Mrs. Suzanne Stribling and Mrs. Jane Turner over the Chimney Corner tea shop at 607½ Westman avenue—some of the costumes they chose to wear were sketched and are here described.

Beginning at the upper left, a sports suit and top coat as "modeled" by Mrs. Morgan Colt Day. The sweater blouse is of pale green jersey with seams in points across the front that give it becoming lines. The collar and pipings match the pleated skirt which is of two shades of green gros grain silk.

The top coat is of rose beige kasha with many rows of stitching on collar, cuffs and pointed pockets. The flower on the lapel is made of green jersey matching the blouse. The hat is of greenish blue felt bound with dark green ribbon.

Next, one of the afternoon frocks shown by Mrs. William E. Glogau is of reseda green flat crepe with seams and flat facings to relieve the straight lines of the blouse and having a front overskirt with pleats stitched half way down over the plain, short little skirt. The smart wide belt worn low is of green suede, the ends made of patches of reseda, jungle green and king's blue piped around the edges with gold leather. Mrs. Glogau wore becomingly a black felt vagabond hat pulled down over her hair which is not bobbed.

Below, at the left, an ensemble evening costume of oriole yellow chiffon was "modeled" by Miss Rocena Baldwin. The wrap, of the same material as the frock, unlined, has double hems which are scalloped and piped. The skirt is cut with circular panels, uneven at the hem and like the coat, scalloped.

Quatre Saisons is featuring strongly the evening gown with wrap to match for spring and summer. Some of the coats are quite as diaphanous as the frocks but serve their purpose as a slight protection and bring the costume into a harmonious whole. The one pictured next is of sea green chiffon combined with matching chiffon brocade with large gold flowers. Patterns cut from the brocade are applied as trimming upon one shoulder, a slide for the girdle and at the ends of the scarf. This costume was displayed by Mrs. Lawrence Miller.

Of citron yellow flat silk is the very simple frock worn by Mrs. Lee Carrington McKinley. A girle of yellow and green taffeta is slid through two immense pleated rosettes at the front and about the only further relief to the simplicity of the frock is the circular cut of both blouse and skirt at the front. The skirt slopes slightly longer toward the front.

Another of the ensemble evening costumes worn by Mrs. Knox Tausig was of powder blue chiffon with cape-like wrap which was a square of gold shot with blue brocade bound round the lower edge with a wide band of the chiffon and attached to a yoke of the chiffon which is shirred at intervals and terminates in scarf ends. Like the other chiffon frocks shown this one is simple and untrimmed save for the large silver orchid shaded flower posed upon the girdle. They depend upon their floating diaphanous quality for their grace and charm.

Chocolate Parfait. Take a pint of good chocolate ice cream and let it get warm enough by standing open for a little while before it is needed. Then with a cream whip beat it until smooth. Add a cupful of whipped cream to it and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Heap in cold tall glasses and top with a teaspoonful of whipped cream and toasted, not salted, almonds. The old cherry decoration can be used, but the almonds are newer.

Women's Happiness Rests largely on solving their oldest hygienic problem this new way—true protection; discards like tissue

To be fresh and charming every day, to live every day unhandcapped, to wear sheerest frocks without a second thought, any time, anywhere . . . you can now do all by a new way.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! Deodorizes, too. And thus ends all fear of offending.

As easily disposed of as tissue. No laundry, no embarrassment. You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying, "KOTEX"; you ask for it without hesitation.

Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the unnecessary risk of old ways. Insist on the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

ROY A. HAYNES
AS ACTING HEAD
OF DRY BUREAU

Will Take Office April 1 Under Andrews Who Says He Is Satisfied and Won't Resign.

WAYNE B. WHEELER
SCORES A VICTORY

Appointment of Ohioan
Taken as First Real Indication That Coolidge Will Run in 1928.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Roy Haynes of Ohio, who was deposed as head of the Federal prohibition forces two years ago when the enforcement unit was reorganized, was temporarily reinstated
today when Secretary of the Treasury Mellon appointed him Assistant and Acting Prohibition Commissioner. The appointment was a significant victory for Wayne B. Wheeler of the Antisaloon League, who carried their fight to the White House
last as they did in 1921 when Haynes was first put in charge of the Federal dry forces by President Harding.

Haynes will take over his new duties on April 1 and will continue until a permanent appointment is made by Mellon on his return from Europe.

Mellon would not comment at length on the appointment. He merely stated that Haynes would be the acting commissioner until the organization of the new prohibition bureau, created by Congress at the session just ended,
could be completed.

Haynes Has Inside Track.
Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Andrews, who reorganized the prohibition service when Haynes
was demoted, said that Haynes would have the inside track for the permanent appointment.

The other candidates for the position were Lieutenant-Commander John D. Pennington, a naval officer, now administrator for the Pittsburgh (Pa.) district, and E. C. Yellowley, administrator for the Chicago district.

Since his demotion, Haynes has retained the title of Prohibition commissioner, but he was stripped of power by the Andrews organization. For the past two years he has been a liaison officer between the Government unit and the dry organizations. He was conspicuous in the galleries of Congress when the prohibition reorganization bill was being considered.

Mellon also announced other appointments, necessitated by the reorganization act, which, in accordance with a plan drawn up by Andrews, created separate bureaus
for the Treasury department for prohibition and customs, as follows: E. V. Camp, assistant and acting Commissioner of Customs,
L. G. Nutt and James E.
Hansen, deputy commissioners of prohibition; and N. G. Van Doren and J. D. Nevius, deputy commissioners of customs. The principal appointment, however, was that of Haynes.

Mellon Wanted Pennington.
Andrews and Mellon were known to favor Pennington, who has had an efficient record in Pittsburgh, Pa., as in 1921. Anti-Saloon League, through Wheeler, and Major Willis and Fess of Ohio,
and the limit for Haynes. Willis stated that he had appeared in behalf of Haynes. The Anti-Saloon League was aided in its fight by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Health of the Methodist Episcopal Church. These organizations were responsible today for the flood of telegrams which came to the White House yesterday urging the appointment of Haynes.

Both Mellon and Andrews called the White House yesterday, apparently in behalf of Pennington, strongly indicated last night, however, that Haynes would be the appointment.

Andrews Denies He'll Quit.
Andrews denied that he had any intention of resigning on May 1 or any other date in the immediate future. He said that the present organization was entirely satisfactory to him. There have been repeated rumors that Andrews would resign in the near future.

Appointment of Haynes in view of the first real indication for a third term. Mellon and Haynes were ignored and Pennington was chosen because there Pennington is certainly Republican and Ohio might be doubtful in
